Ohioan Confesses Auto Theft Role

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A U.S. District Court judge has delayed sentencing of two men, one from Ohio, after the pair pleaded guilty to operating an auto theft ring.

Roy Edward Paulson, 38, of Hot Springs and William Palmer, 36, of Talmadge, Ohio, entered their guilty pleas at the start of their trial Wednesday.

Four other men, including Joseph Francis Newman, 59, Akron, Ohio, also are being tried on the charges.

Newsman Aid Wanted Man In Surrender to Police

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following story of the surrender of alleged killer Thomas (Rabbi) Tom Trantino, 27, wanted in connection with the slaying of two New Jersey policemen, is told by Associated Press reporter Anthony Alborelli and photographer Ray Howard, who met with the man and his woman attorney in a Manhattan tavern preceding a walk to a police station just around the corner.

NEW YORK (AP) — "I got a call from the office that this man Trantino was going to give himself up with his lawyer, Miss Enid Gerling," said Associated Press reporter Anthony Alborelli. "I was told to go to the Village Bar on First Avenue between 21st and 22nd streets." Alborelli continued. "I hurried down, parked my car in front of the station house (on East 22nd St.) I met our motorcycle messenger (George McNiven) and the photographer (Ray Howard) outside. "The three of us walked in the bar last night. There were five people in it. I saw the attorney (Miss Gerling). She called us over and asked us if we wanted a drink.

"Sitting with me at the bar was this man (Trantino), wearing dark glasses."

Howard said: "He (Trantino) was drinking a double, a martini I think. The attorney told him to have another and brace up and get his wits about him. He took another drink. "Tony (Alborelli) introduced me to the young lady lawyer and she introduced us to Trantino. While Tony was writing, getting some notes, I was talking with him (Trantino).

"I took my camera off my neck and sort of hid it so the other customers wouldn't know what's going on."

Alborelli said: "She (Miss Gerling) said this man wanted to give himself up. His family asked him to give himself up but he was afraid of this Falco, but after he was shot down he decided to give himself up."

Frank Falco, 25, wanted in connection with the murders of two policemen in a Lodi, N.J., tavern last Monday, was slain early Wednesday by police during a battle in Falco's Manhattan hotel room.

SENATE PANEL OK'S TREATY

Caution Lights On in Railroad Labor Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trains were rolling today, but there were caution lights ahead. What kept them rolling was strike-blocking legislation quickly enacted Wednesday by Congress and signed into law by President Kennedy.

What touches off the note of caution is the view in several quarters that the legislation only serves to delay a future outbreak of discord and a subsequent strike threat.

Racing against the clock—the strike had been set for 12:01 a.m. Eastern Standard Time today—and after four hours of debate the House at 4:42 p.m. Wednesday approved a resolution passed by the Senate Tuesday night calling for binding arbitration of the two major issues in dispute. The House vote was 286 to 66.

Minutes later the threat of a nationwide rail strike was removed. The carriers announced they were taking down notices of new work rules and the heads of the five rail brotherhoods announced they were canceling their strike plans.

Then, at 6:14 p.m., Kennedy signed the measure.

Having previously declared a railroad strike at this time "intolerable," the President said the legislation "reaffirmed the essential priority of the public interest over any narrower interest."

The President's statement appeared, however, to be couched in terms designed to ward off future criticism.

For even as the bill rolled through Congress—after weeks of indecision and numerous but fruitless government-directed negotiating sessions—there were rumors that it had stalled off a strike for possibly only six months. Also there was union criticism that compulsory arbitration of the two issues was a "regrettable and backward step."

The two issues to be arbitrated are the 32,000 firemen's jobs considered essential by the carriers and regulation of the number of men assigned to train crews.

The law creates a seven-member arbitration board which would have a maximum of 180 days to rule on the two key issues.

Other issues viewed as lesser ones are to be taken up by the unions and the carriers.

The issues to be left to negotiation include such things as wage structure and job security.

The arbitration board will include two members selected by rail management, two by the rail unions and three public members to be named by the two sides.

Serial Numbers Released In Train Robbery Loot

LONDON (AP) — The serial numbers of many of the bank notes stolen in Britain's great train robbery were circulated widely today. Police said they were convinced most of the $7 million haul now is useless to the thieves.

Scotland Yard believes the loot from the Aug. 8 mail train ambush still is in Britain, although some of the gang's ringleaders may have fled the country.

Negroes End March, Now Face Task Of Turning Drama into Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—The historic civil rights march on Washington—massive and orderly and moving — has dramatized the wants of Negroes in America, but leaders still faced the task today of trying to turn drama into action.

Speaker after speaker told the 200,000 Negro and white sympathizers massed in front of the Lincoln Memorial Wednesday that their demonstration was no more than a beginning.

"Those who hope that the Negro needed to blow off steam and will now be content," said the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., "will have a rude awakening if the nation returns to business as usual."

Demonstrators and their leaders made it clear that one sign of progress, in their view, would be congressional approval of President Kennedy's civil rights bill.

But there was no evidence that the demonstration would move the Congress into any faster consideration of the bill.

Kennedy, like the civil rights leaders, also talked in terms of a beginning. He met with King and the other civil rights leaders after the demonstration and said, "We have a long way yet to travel."

But the President also said "the cause of 20 million Negroes has been advanced by the program so appropriately before the nation's shrine to the Great Emancipator."

Kennedy, in his statement, spoke of the demonstration's "quiet dignity," and this was the element of the day that probably most impressed the city of Washington.

There was some conflict not visible to the crowds at the Lincoln Memorial.

A demonstration leader, John Lewis, told a newsman later that he was forced to rewrite his speech because the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, Roman Catholic archbishop of Washington, had objected to it.

Lewis, 23, a Negro, is chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, one of the youngest and most militant of the civil rights organizations.

Lewis said Archbishop O'Boyle, who delivered the invocation, had told march leaders he would not appear on the same platform with Lewis if his prepared speech was delivered as written. Lewis said the prelate considered the speech revolutionary.

Lewis said a meeting was called of the civil rights leaders, and he was forced to give in. When he gave his speech, he left out such comments as:

"We cannot depend on any political party, for both the Democrats and the Republicans have betrayed the basic principles of the Declaration of Independence."

But the crowds did not know this, and they cheered and applauded the words of Lewis. But they reserved their greatest applause for King, the chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

One supporter shouted out "the next president of the United States" as King began to speak

The Negro leader, 34, drew loud cheers when he pointed to the 20,000 or so white sympathizers in the crowd and said, "Many of our white brothers have come to realize that their destiny is tied with our destiny and their freedom is inextricably bound to our freedom."

One of the aims of the demonstrators was to convince Congress to pass President Kennedy's civil rights bill soon. When several sympathetic congressmen were introduced, demonstrators chanted at them: "Pass the bill. Pass the bill. Pass the bill."

But there was no evidence that Congress would respond quickly to this demand. Although some legislators like Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the demonstration would help pass the bill, others said it would not affect passage one way or another.

And the House Judiciary Committee, with so many members taking off for their Labor Day weekend, decided to postpone consideration of the bill until Sept. 9

No Reservation Allowed; Lone Solon Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 16 to 1 today to approve the limited nuclear test ban treaty without any reservation.

It now goes to the Senate for what proponents predict will be overwhelming ratification.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., cast the lone vote against the treaty.

The vote came after the committee beat down two motions to delay action, and another to demand access to all correspondence between Washington and Moscow leading up to and during the negotiation of the pact.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the committee agreed to take the treaty up on the floor of the Senate Monday, Sept. 9.

A formal report will be submitted to the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday, embracing U.S. "understandings" and "interpretations" of its meaning, Fulbright said.

This would be designed to eliminate any need for any formal reservation which might require a renegotiation of the pact banning tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space, but not underground.

Senator George D. Aiken, R-Vt., told a reporter that at a meeting Wednesday a question was raised whether the committee should wait until the Senate Preparedness subcommittee makes its own report.

"Maybe the discussion wasn't as spirited as those at Democratic conventions," Aiken said. "But it was quite spirited for the Foreign Relations Committee." There were some suggestions that the committee call additional witnesses, he said.

The preparedness subcommittee has been conducting an independent investigation and its chairman, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., is reported to be considering a report of its own.

Judge Stays Execution of Big Judgment

ATLANTA (AP) — A federal judge stayed execution of a $3.06 million libel judgment for Wally Butts today pending motions for a new trial and a judgment for Curtis Publishing Co.

U.S. District Judge Lewis R. Morgan issued the stay and in his order indicated the publishing firm would file its motion by Friday.

Attorneys for Curtis had not indicated earlier what legal route they would pursue after a Federal Court jury awarded Butts the verdict because of a Saturday Evening Post article which charged him with fixing a football game.

One of the motions will ask a new trial and the other will seek a judgment from Morgan for Curtis.

The $3.06 million judgment for Butts was the second largest ever awarded in a libel action.

Butts, former athletic director at Georgia, was charged by the Post with feeding information on his team to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama last fall. The Post said Butts and Bryant rigged the 1962 game which Alabama won 35-0.

Butts had sued for $10 million, asking $5 million general damages and $5 million punitive damages. The jury set general damages at $60,000 and punitive damages at $3 million, a record for that type of judgment.

Youngster Still On 'Critical' List

Art Foll, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Foll, 156 W. Water St., seriously injured in a truck-bicycle accident here Tuesday, was reported still in "critical" condition at 10:30 a. m. today.

The youngster is in Children's Hospital, Columbus. He suffered multiple head and internal injuries.

Drillers Press Hunt for Miner

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — Rescuers moved on several fronts today in intensified efforts to reach trapped miner Louis Bova, 54, as the possibility grew that a man would be sent underground to search for him.

Workers made preliminary preparations for enlarging a 12-inch escape hole, driven 305 feet Wednesday into a chamber where it is believed Bova may be trapped. He has been without food since the coal mine caved in 16 days ago.

The 12-inch hole was plugged to prevent debris from falling into it and workers began pouring cement down it shortly before dawn.

Another drilling probe, this one a 6½-inch type, hit a void at 331 feet at 3:45 a. m. The void was about 12 inches deep. Drilling was stopped and the drill bit withdrawn. A super sensitive microphone was lowered into the hole twice but there was no response, officials said.

Still a third probe, this one three inches, reached 217 feet when drilling was stopped temporarily for the microphone tests.

H. Beecher Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said plans called for reaming the first 38 feet of the 12-inch hole to 30 inches. Steel casing will be inserted to the 38-foot level. Then the remainder of the hole will be enlarged to 22 inches.

Charnbury said the earliest this operation could be completed would be midnight tonight.

"There is a possibility" that a man will be sent down the 22-inch hole to search for Bova, said Charnbury.

"It looks like a man will be sent down," said Deputy Secretary Gordon Smith.

Officials would not say who the man might be but among the volunteers are David Fellin, 58, recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital since his rescue Tuesday from the cave-in, and a brother of Bova.

Fellin and Henry Throne, 28, who also was rescued, were trapped in the Aug. 13 cave-in with Bova but he was separated from them by debris, and reportedly injured. Bova was last heard from six days after the cave-in when Fellin and Throne reported talking to him. They believe he is alive.

Dominican Republic OKs Peace Accord with Haiti

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The Dominican Republic was understood today to have agreed in principle to a formula designed to ensure peace with neighboring Haiti.

An Organization of American States (OAS) commission, sponsor of the formula, reportedly obtained Haiti's general endorsement earlier this week.

Tracy had delayed payments on the basis that such payments would improperly tap funds of the current fiscal year.

Saxbe's opinion held that the state has no obligation to pay a landowner until a "right of way bill" is signed by the deputy state highway director.

None of the bills held up by Tracy was signed by the deputy director until after the start of fiscal year, Saxbe ruled.

Oil Slick, Debris at Sea Tied to Fate of Lost Planes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An oil slick and debris "that looks like pieces of an airplane" were found today in the Atlantic 560 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., by aircraft seeking two strato-tanker jet airplanes missing since Wednesday with 11 men aboard.

The discovery, made by a four-engine rescue craft from Bermuda, was the first positive lead as to the possible fate of the two KC135s that were on the same refueling mission from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., said the Air Rescue Service at Orlando, Fla. AFB. An oil slick also was reported southwest of Bermuda late Wednesday. Its source was not known.

The HC54 master aircraft that made the find today circled the area while additional air and sea searchers rushed to the area. Paramedics were being sent to the scene.

Radio contact was lost about noon Wednesday as the huge tankers returned toward Homestead. At that time, they were 800 miles northeast of Miami, or about 300 miles west of Bermuda.

A spokesman of the Air Rescue Service said, "The debris looks like pieces of an airplane but that is all we know at this time."

The Air force was unwilling to discuss the possible fate of the aircraft.

About 35 Air Force planes — ranging from amphibian HU16 Albatrosses to T29 trainers — flew over the Atlantic during the night, their search lights playing over the water, igniting flares occasionally to light an unidentified object. Air Rescue Service headquarters in Orlando said the total might reach close to 100 planes during the day.

The Coast Guard also sent out at least five ships and many planes.

The planes, which have a range of 4,500 miles and a cruising speed of 600 miles an hour, would have run out of fuel at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Their mission, scheduled arrival time at Homestead and even the base from which they departed were classified.

Giant Steam Engine Retired

CLEVELAND (AP)—A steam locomotive that traveled nearly 400,000 miles in three states before being retired will be donated by Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to the City of Newport News, Va., on Labor Day.

The gift locomotive, C&O No. 2756, was refurbished in the railroad's shops in Huntington, W.Va. and towed to Newport News. The old steamer, one of the biggest and most powerful of a fading breed, will be placed on a concrete pedestal in Newport News' Huntington Park.

No. 2756 was built in 1947 by Lima Locomotive Works in Lima at a cost of nearly a quarter of a million dollars. The engine and tender weigh 863,780 pounds. The tender's capacity is 30 tons of coal and 21,000 gallons of water.

Algers, Algeria (AP) — The Algerian Assembly adopted the country's first constitution Wednesday night, and thus established virtual unrestricted rule by Premier Ahmed Ben Bella.

Utah Rescue Effort Stalled

Fresh Air Pumped Into Mine Shaft

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Attempts to reach five reported survivors of a potash mine explosion were temporarily suspended today to establish a fresh air pocket at the base of a 2,700 foot mine shaft.

State Mine Commissioner Casper Nelson said work on the air base may take 24 hours, and during that time rescuers would not go into the tunnels.

Nelson's announcement followed the finding of eight bodies Wednesday night, dimming the hope of tired, grimy rescue workers, who had pushed their search since the explosion Tuesday afternoon. One body was brought up today.

The blast trapped 25 men in Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s $35 million potash mine. Two were rescued Wednesday in good condition.

They said five of their companions were alive after the blast, barricaded behind debris about 2-100 feet into one of two tunnels extending laterally and downward from the main shaft.

Fate of the 10 remaining miners was unknown.

Nelson blamed carbon monoxide for the miners' deaths.

"We are not abandoning hope," Nelson said.

"We have been unsuccessful in attempts to reach the five men believed to be alive behind a barricade. . . We plan to go back to our original plan of establishing a fresh air base at the bottom of the shaft from which we can work. . . We should have followed this procedure 24 hours ago," he added.

During the night, Nelson said rescue crews succeeded in restoring the compressed air line leading to the five barricaded miners.

"We're guessing it (the air) is going back to the five," he said. "However, rescuers instructed to tap on the line have not received any answering sounds."

Frank Tippie, head of Texas Gulf's potash division, said of the general rescue situation: "It doesn't look good when you find eight bodies."

Joyce Hyams, wife of a farmer on the outskirts of the community said:

"I was hanging out some wash when I felt straw falling all over me. I looked up and the sky seemed full of it."

The strawfall quickly spread to the city and soon local residents were busy with brooms and street forks removing it from streets and lawns. The weird phenomenon stopped as suddenly as it had begun.

50 American Students Head Back to U.S.

MADRID, Spain (AP)—Fifty American students who violated a U.S. State Department travel ban by visiting Cuba flew home today.

Four of those who arrived in Madrid Monday from Havana decided to stay longer. Associates said they apparently feared the reception the group would receive in New York, and preferred to return alone.

Two of those staying were identified as John R. Glenn of Huntington, Ind., and his wife. The other two were not immediately identified.

Those arriving at the airport appeared to have done a clean-up and dress-up job for the journey. On arrival here, many of them looked like beatniks. But today many of the men had shaved off their Castro-style beards, or had them trimmed. Almost all were in clean clothing.

The State Department has indicated the students' passports will be lifted when they arrive in the United States. Leaders of the group may be prosecuted.

The students, who traveled to Havana two months ago as guests of the Cuban government, arrived in Madrid Monday. Many were running out of money as a result of delays encountered in obtaining passage out of Havana.

Lewis said a meeting was called of the civil rights leaders, and he was forced to give in. When he gave his speech, he left out such comments as:

"We cannot depend on any political party, for both the Democrats and the Republicans have betrayed the basic principles of the Declaration of Independence."

But the crowds did not know this, and they cheered and applauded the words of Lewis. But they reserved their greatest applause for King, the chairman of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

One supporter shouted out "the next president of the United States" as King began to speak

The Negro leader, 34, drew loud cheers when he pointed to the 20,000 or so white sympathizers in the crowd and said, "Many of our white brothers have come to realize that their destiny is tied with our destiny and their freedom is inextricably bound to our freedom."

One of the aims of the demonstrators was to convince Congress to pass President Kennedy's civil rights bill soon. When several sympathetic congressmen were introduced, demonstrators chanted at them: "Pass the bill. Pass the bill. Pass the bill."

But there was no evidence that Congress would respond quickly to this demand. Although some legislators like Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., said the demonstration would help pass the bill, others said it would not affect passage one way or another.

And the House Judiciary Committee, with so many members taking off for their Labor Day weekend, decided to postpone consideration of the bill until Sept. 9.

No Reservation Allowed; Lone Solon Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee voted 16 to 1 today to approve the limited nuclear test ban treaty without any reservation.

It now goes to the Senate for what proponents predict will be overwhelming ratification.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., cast the lone vote against the treaty.

The vote came after the committee beat down two motions to delay action, and another to demand access to all correspondence between Washington and Moscow leading up to and during the negotiation of the pact.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the committee agreed to take the treaty up on the floor of the Senate Monday, Sept. 9.

A formal report will be submitted to the Senate Tuesday or Wednesday, embracing U.S. "understandings" and "interpretations" of its meaning, Fulbright said.

This would be designed to eliminate any need for any formal reservation which might require a renegotiation of the pact banning tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space, but not underground.

Senator George D. Aiken, R-Vt., told a reporter that at a meeting Wednesday a question was raised whether the committee should wait until the Senate Preparedness subcommittee makes its own report.

"Maybe the discussion wasn't as spirited as those at Democratic conventions," Aiken said, "But it was quite spirited for the Foreign Relations Committee." There were some suggestions that the committee call additional witnesses, he said.

The preparedness subcommittee has been conducting an independent investigation and its chairman, Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., is reported to be considering a report of its own.

Judge Stays Execution of Big Judgment

ATLANTA (AP)—A federal judge stayed execution of a $3.06 million libel judgment for Wally Butts today pending motions for a new trial and a judgment for Curtis Publishing Co.

U.S. District Judge Lewis R. Morgan issued the stay and in his order indicated the publishing firm would file its motion by Friday.

Attorneys for Curtis had not indicated earlier what legal route they would pursue after a Federal Court jury awarded Butts the verdict because of a Saturday Evening Post article which charged him with fixing a football game. One of the motions will ask a new trial and the other will seek a judgment from Morgan for Curtis.

The $3.06 million judgment for Butts was the second largest ever awarded in a libel action.

Butts, former athletic director at Georgia, was charged by the Post with feeding information on his team to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama last fall. The Post said Butts and Bryant rigged the 1962 game which Alabama won 35-0.

Butts had sued for $10 million, asking $5 million general damages and $5 million punitive damages. The jury set general damages at $60,000 and punitive damages at $3 million, a record for that type of judgment.

Youngster Still On 'Critical' List

Art Foll, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Foll, 156 W. Water St., seriously injured in a truck-bicycle accident here Tuesday, was reported still in "critical" condition at 10:30 a. m. today.

The youngster is in Children's Hospital, Columbus. He suffered multiple head and internal injuries.

Drillers Press Hunt for Miner

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Rescuers moved on several fronts today in intensified efforts to reach trapped miner Louis Bova, 54, as the possibility grew that a man would be sent underground to search for him.

Workers made preliminary preparations for enlarging a 12-inch escape hole, driven 305 feet Wednesday into a chamber where it is believed Bova may be trapped. He has been without food since the coal mine caved in 16 days ago.

The 12-inch hole was plugged to prevent debris from falling into it and workers began pouring cement down it shortly before dawn.

Another drilling probe, this one a 6½-inch type, hit a void at 331 feet at 3:45 a. m. The void was about 12 inches deep. Drilling was stopped and the drill bit withdrawn. A super sensitive microphone was lowered into the hole twice but there was no response, officials said.

Still a third probe, this one three inches, reached 217 feet when drilling was stopped temporarily for the microphone tests.

H. Beecher Charnbury, state secretary of mines, said plans called for reaming the first 38 feet of the 12-inch hole to 30 inches. Steel casing will be inserted to the 38-foot level. Then the remainder of the hole will be enlarged to 22 inches.

Charnbury said the earliest this operation could be completed would be midnight tonight.

"There is a possibility" that a man will be sent down the 22-inch hole to search for Bova, said Charnbury.

"It looks like a man will be sent down," said Deputy Secretary Gordon Smith.

Officials would not say who the man might be but among the volunteers are David Fellin, 58, recuperating in Hazleton State Hospital since his rescue Tuesday from the cave-in, and a brother of Bova.

Fellin and Henry Throne, 28, who also was rescued, were trapped in the Aug. 13 cave-in with Bova but he was separated from them by debris, and reportedly injured. Bova was last heard from six days after the cave-in when Fellin and Thorne reported talking to him. They believe he is alive.

Right-of-Way Fund Released

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The way has been cleared for payment of an estimated $5 million to $6 million to property owners for highway rights-of-way.

An opinion by Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe Wednesday gave State Auditor Roger W. Tracy the green light to proceed with payments to an estimated 400 to 450 landowners.

Tracy had delayed payments on the basis that such payments would improperly tap funds of the current fiscal year.

Saxbe's opinion held that the state has no obligation to pay a landowner until a "right of way bill" is signed by the deputy state highway director. None of the bills held up by Tracy was signed by the deputy director until after the start of fiscal year, Saxbe ruled.

Oil Slick, Debris at Sea Tied to Fate of Lost Planes

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—An oil slick and debris "that looks like pieces of an airplane" were found today in the Atlantic 560 miles east of Daytona Beach, Fla., by aircraft seeking two strato-tanker jet airplanes missing since Wednesday with 11 men aboard.

Churchmen Eye Conflict Between Sexes

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Church leaders say a "new pattern of partnership between men and women" is needed.

"We are beset by the conflicting ideologies of masculine paternalism and aggressive feminism," said a report by the division of ecumenical action of the World Council of Churches, which includes most Protestant and Orthodox denominations.

The male's impulse to rule the roost, and the woman's drive to outdo him are blighting relationships between the sexes, the study maintained.

A flurry of debate arose Wednesday after an address by Dr. Klaus von Bismarck of Cologne, West Germany. He said churches both in the West and the Communist East sometimes confuse the gospel with state ideologies.

Churchmen from Communist countries challenged this. "The Church cannot adopt Communist ideology," insisted Bishop Tibor Bartha, of Debrecen, Hungary.

But he said that in the political-economic realm, Communists in many areas "are doing a splendid job."

Declared Russian Orthodox

Archpriest Vitaly Borovoy, of Leningrad: "Even the Communists are frightened at the idea of any such confusion of the two, even if the churches attempted to promote it."

engine rescue craft from Bermuda, was the first positive lead as to the possible fate of the two KC135s that were on the same refueling mission from Homestead Air Force Base, Fla., said the Air Rescue Service at Orlando, Fla. AFB. An oil slick also was reported southwest of Bermuda late Wednesday. Its source was not known.

The HC54 master aircraft that made the find today circled the area while additional air and sea searchers rushed to the area. Paramedics were being sent to the scene.

Radio contact was lost about noon Wednesday as the huge tankers returned toward Homestead. At that time, they were 800 miles northeast of Miami, or about 300 miles west of Bermuda.

A spokesman of the Air Rescue Service said, "The debris looks like pieces of an airplane but that is all we know at this time."

The Air Force was unwilling to discuss the possible fate of the aircraft.

About 35 Air Force planes—ranging from amphibian HU16 Albatrosses to T29 trainers—flew over the Atlantic during the night, their search lights playing over the water, igniting flares occasionally to light an unidentified object. Air Rescue Service headquarters in Orlando said the total might reach close to 100 planes during the day.

The Coast Guard also sent out at least five ships and many planes.

The planes, which have a range of 4,500 miles and a cruising speed of 600 miles an hour, would have run out of fuel at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Their mission, scheduled arrival time at Homestead and even the base from which they departed were classified.

Giant Steam Engine Retired

CLEVELAND (AP)—A steam locomotive that traveled nearly 400,000 miles in three states before being retired will be donated by Chesapeake & Ohio Railway to the City of Newport News, Va., on Labor Day.

The gift locomotive, C&O No. 2756, was refurbished in the railroad's shops in Huntington, W.Va. and towed to Newport News. The old steamer, one of the biggest and most powerful of a fading breed, will be placed on a concrete pedestal in Newport News' Huntington Park.

No. 2756 was built in 1947 by Lima Locomotive Works in Lima at a cost of nearly a quarter of a million dollars. The engine and tender weigh 863,780 pounds. The tender's capacity is 30 tons of coal and 21,000 gallons of water.

Utah Rescue Effort Stalled

Fresh Air Pumped Into Mine Shaft

MOAB, Utah (AP)—Attempts to reach five reported survivors of a potash mine explosion were temporarily suspended today to establish a fresh air pocket at the base of a 2,700 foot mine shaft.

State Mine Commissioner Casper Nelson said work on the air base may take 24 hours, and during that time rescuers would not go into the tunnels.

Nelson's announcement followed the finding of eight bodies Wednesday night, dimming the hope of tired, grimy rescue workers, who had pushed their search since the explosion Tuesday afternoon. One body was brought up today.

The blast trapped 25 men in Texas Gulf Sulphur Co.'s $35 million potash mine. Two were rescued Wednesday in good condition.

They said five of their companions were alive after the blast, barricaded behind debris about 2-100 feet into one of two tunnels extending laterally and downward from the main shaft.

Fate of the 10 remaining miners was unknown.

Nelson blamed carbon monoxide for the miners' deaths.

"We are not abandoning hope," Nelson said.

"We have been unsuccessful in attempts to reach the five men believed to be alive behind a barricade. . . . We plan to go back to our original plan of establishing a fresh air base at the bottom of the shaft from which we can work. . . . We should have followed this procedure 24 hours ago," he added.

During the night, Nelson said rescue crews succeeded in restoring the compressed air line leading to the five barricaded miners. "We're guessing it (the air) is going back to the five," he said. "However, rescuers instructed to tap on the line have not received any answering sounds."

Frank Tippie, head of Texas Gulf's potash division, said of the general rescue situation: "It doesn't look good when you find eight bodies."

Town Is Baffled By 'Strawfall'

DARTFORD, England (AP)—Saw fell for an hour from clouds over this part of Kent today baffling one and all.

Joyce Hyams, wife of a farmer on the outskirts of the community, said:

"I was hanging out some wash when I felt straw falling all over me. I looked up and the sky seemed full of it."

The strawfall quickly spread to the city and soon local residents were busy with brooms and pitch forks removing it from streets and lawns. The weird phenomenon stopped as suddenly as it had begun.

Man Takes 2 Shots at Jailed Wife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton man was arrested here today following a shooting incident at the Greene County Jail involving his wife. It occurred Wednesday night.

Detectives said they are holding 23-year-old Darrell Oney for Greene County authorities. Oney's wife Georgia, also 23, has been in the city jail in Xenia for several weeks on a burglary charge. But Greene County Sheriff Russell Bradley said the woman was moved to the county jail.

Bradley said Mrs. Oney was in the jail's kitchen having coffee with two trusty's when Oney appeared at the back door and fired two shots.

Mrs. Oney screamed but the trusty's pushed her to the floor and no one was hit. Bradley said Oney was spotted by an off-duty Xenia policeman and escaped after a 90 m.p.h. chase toward Dayton.

The policeman notified Dayton authorities, Sheriff Bradley said, and radioed the license number of Oney's car.

Detectives said they went to the home of Oney's brother, in whose name the car was registered, and spotted Oney on the roof of an adjacent building.

Oney surrendered after Detective R.J. Beutle fired one warning shot.

Bradley quoted Mrs. Oney as saying she feared for her life after she had implicated her husband in some burglaries.

Kidnaper's Accomplice Bound to Grand Jury

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Elmer P. Perry, 38, of Newport, admitted accomplice of slain kidnap Frederick Neal, was bound over to the Campbell County grand jury Wednesday on a charge of possessing burglary tools. Judge Walter Burke set bond at $5,000.

Perry admitted to police he was with Neal before Neal broke into the Highland Country Club at Fort Thomas Monday.

Neal kidnaped Asst. County Police Chief George Arnold as he investigated the entry—launching a wild cross-country chase which ended in Neal's death by police gunfire at Harrodsburg, Ky.

No Reservation

(Continued from Page 1) Wednesday. He apparently satisfied the group. Fulbright said that there is no need for attaching a formal reservation to the resolution of ratification.

In endorsing ratification, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed a reservation to provide that "in the event of any armed aggression endangering a vital interest of the United States this nation would be the sole judge" as to when and where it would use its nuclear weapons.

Rusk urged the committee not to endanger the treaty by attaching a formal reservation which might require its renegotiation. He said it would be "perfectly appropriate" to make the U.S. position clear by including Eisenhower's stipulation in the committee report recommending Senate ratification.

Election Board Required To Mail Notice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Failure of a candidate to file a campaign financial statement within 45 days after the primary does not bar him from running for office in the general election—if he failed to receive a notice from the election board, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled today.

Statute requires the board to notify candidates by ordinary mail of the required report on campaign receipts and expenditures.

The opinion went to Prosecutor George E. Schroder of Putnam County.

A new law, requiring notice to candidates by certified mail, enacted by the last legislature, became effective Monday.

Election officials said the change was made because candidates often ignored regular mail notices sent out by election boards on postcards.

Stocks Chalk Further Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market celebrated the averting of a railroad strike by making further gains today in heavy trading.

Although the market's sharp rally Wednesday was based on conviction that Congress would forestall the renewed strike threat, there was still plenty of steam left on the buying side—even though Wall Street, it's said, "never discounts the same thing twice."

As the session wore on, however, traders began to take profits on their recent gains.

Early advances by motors and steels were mostly washed out and some of the recent leaders began to show small losses. Rails were no better than mixed.

Selective gains by chemicals, utilities, tobaccos, mail order-retails, and oils kept the averages modestly higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 5 at 279.2 with industrials up .8, rails unchanged and utilities up .4.

Medal Comes 20 Years Late; Ex-GI Wonders What for

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Walter G. Arvin, 38, of nearby Trenton has received two military medals—almost 20 years late—and even he doesn't know what one represents.

Retired Maj. Gen. Forrest Harding of Franklin presented the Purple Heart and Bronze Star Medals to Arvin Wednesday.

Arvin knows for sure about the Purple Heart—he was wounded twice in January 1944 during the Battle of the Bulge in Europe.

The Bronze Star citation was for "meritorious achievement in ground operations" but Arvin doesn't know just what that covered.

The order for the medals came from the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in February 1944 but they weren't executed until July of this year.

New State Statute Provides For Fire Station Program

Townships, township fire districts and municipalities may build fire houses and pay for them over a four-year period under a new law to become effective Sept. 2, State Representative Ed Wallace of Pickaway County pointed out today.

The new statute, enacted by the 105th Ohio General Assembly, provides that deferred payments for the buildings shall be made under the same conditions as those for fire-fighting equipment.

However, it changes those conditions to require a minimum of one-fourth of the purchase price to be paid in cash at the time of purchase and annual payments and notes securing them represent a minimum, or a fourth of the total price.

Rep. Wallace said the old law required payments be a fourth at time of purchase and the balance in notes, with amounts not specified, maturing in two, three and four years.

Another new law, effective the same day, Wallace added, will allow sickness and accident insurance companies, authorized to do business in Ohio, to form an association to offer a group policy to Ohioans 65 years of age or older and their spouses, subject to reasonable underwriting restrictions.

The association could enroll persons through any licensed sickness and accident insurance agent.

Other new laws becoming operative on the same day include those to:

Revise laws governing the Higher Education Assistance Commission, requiring approval of a majority of five members, instead of only a majority of those present at a meeting, of actions by the commission and requiring the special-interest charges on loans be used, in part, to reimburse the state general fund for commission expenses.

Provide that a court order changing the name of a person whose original birth certificate was recorded prior to creation of the state bureau of vital statistics be filed in the probate court of the county where the person was born and upon request such court shall issue a new birth certificate.

Make the father of an illegitimate child subject to the law against neglect or mistreatment of a child without being charged by law with support or education of the child.

Armitage Gets Dean's Post At Ohio State

Saigon Chief Hints Lifting Of Stiff Law

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The military governor of Saigon said today martial law will be lifted as soon as there is evidence that the Buddhist crisis is over—and that this would demand cooperation of the foreign press.

Brig. Gen. Ton That Dinh did not elaborate, but implied he wanted an end to news stories critical of the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Dinh, in command of Saigon since Aug. 20 when martial law was imposed, also released figures on the number of persons arrested in the government's crackdown on Buddhists, who had demonstrated for months against Diem, a Roman Catholic.

Dinh told newsmen 825 monks, nuns, novice nuns and Buddhist followers were arrested in raids on Saigon's pagodas by troops and police Aug. 20-21. But he said he believed 300 to 400 monks and nuns were released shortly after and others would be freed soon.

Dinh said 1,380 students and other Buddhist followers were arrested as they gathered for another anti-Diem demonstration last week in Saigon.

However, Dinh denied reports that former Foreign Minister Vu Van Mau, who resigned last week in protest against the government crackdown, was arrested Monday.

Man Takes 2 Shots at Jailed Wife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A Dayton man was arrested here today following a shooting incident at the Greene County Jail involving his wife. It occurred Wednesday night.

Detectives said they are holding 23-year-old Darrell Oney for Greene County authorities. Oney's wife Georgia, also 23, has been in the city jail in Xenia for several weeks on a burglary charge. But Greene County Sheriff Russell Bradley said the woman was moved to the county jail.

Bradley said Mrs. Oney was in the jail's kitchen having coffee with two trusty's when Oney appeared at the back door and fired two shots.

Mrs. Oney screamed but the trusty's pushed her to the floor and no one was hit. Bradley said Oney was spotted by an off-duty Xenia policeman and escaped after a 90 m.p.h. chase toward Dayton.

The policeman notified Dayton authorities, Sheriff Bradley said, and radioed the license number of Oney's car.

Detectives said they went to the home of Oney's brother, in whose name the car was registered, and spotted Oney on the roof of an adjacent building.

Oney surrendered after Detective R.J. Beutle fired one warning shot.

Bradley quoted Mrs. Oney as saying she feared for her life after she had implicated her husband in some burglaries.

Beaver County authorities said Robert E. Burgett, 34, of Circleville, Ohio, apparently died about 18 hours before the body was found in a Pennsylvania Railroad coal car. An autopsy indicated Burgett died of natural causes, police said.

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Elmer P. Perry, 38, of Newport, admitted accomplice of slain kidnaper Frederick Neal, was bound over to the Campbell County grand jury Wednesday on a charge of possessing burglary tools. Judge Walter Burke set bond at $5,000.

Perry admitted to police he was with Neal before Neal broke into the Highland Country Club at Fort Thomas Monday.

Neal kidnaped Asst. County Police Chief George Arnold as he investigated the entry—launching a wild cross-country chase which ended in Neal's death by police gunfire at Harrodsburg, Ky.

Wednesday. He apparently satisfied the group, Fulbright said, that there is no need for attaching a formal reservation to the resolution of ratification.

In endorsing ratification, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower proposed a reservation to provide that "in the event of any armed aggression endangering a vital interest of the United States this nation would be the sole judge" as to when and where it would use its nuclear weapons.

Rusk urged the committee not to endanger the treaty by attaching a formal reservation which might require its renegotiation. He said it would be "perfectly appropriate" to make the U.S. position clear by including Eisenhower's stipulation in the committee report recommending Senate ratification.

This levy is for the benefit of Pickaway County for the construction of permanent improvements at Berger Hospital in Circleville. If passed, it will mean 15 cents on each one hundred dollars of valuation for five years.

Gladys Vause, worthy lecturer, presented the following program: "What Is A Farmer?" Mrs. C. E. Maffey, "Jokes," Gladys Vause, "A Good Boss willing to admit he's wrong — Welcomes Ideas," Mrs. Paul Peters.

Soviet Raps Hit-Run Raiding Against Cuba

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union today denounced recent hit-and-run raids on Cuba and pledged continued support for Fidel Castro's regime.

But there was no mention of when Cuba might accede to Soviet wishes and sign the limited nuclear test ban treaty. All other Communist countries except those which follow Red China have signed.

Neal kidnaped Asst. County Police Chief George Arnold as he investigated the entry—launching a wild cross-country chase which ended in Neal's death by police gunfire at Harrodsburg, Ky.

Election Board Required To Mail Notice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Failure of a candidate to file a campaign financial statement within 45 days after the primary does not bar him from running for office in the general election—if he failed to receive a notice from the election board, Atty. Gen. William Saxbe ruled today.

Statute requires the board to notify candidates by ordinary mail of the required report on campaign receipts and expenditures.

The opinion went to Prosecutor George E. Schroder of Putnam County.

A new law, requiring notice to candidates by certified mail, enacted by the last legislature, became effective Monday.

Election officials said the change was made because candidates often ignored regular mail notices sent out by election boards on postcards.

Stocks Chalk Further Gains

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market celebrated the averting of a railroad strike by making further gains today in heavy trading.

Although the market's sharp rally Wednesday was based on conviction that Congress would forestall the renewed strike threat, there was still plenty of steam left on the buying side—even though Wall Street, it's said, "never discounts the same thing twice."

As the session wore on, however, traders began to take profits on their recent gains. Early advances by motors and steels were mostly washed out and some of the recent leaders began to show small losses. Rails were no better than mixed.

Selective gains by chemicals, utilities, tobacco, mail order-retails, and oils kept the averages modestly higher.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 279.2 with industrials up .8, rails unchanged and utilities up .4.

Medal Comes 20 Years Late; Ex-GI Wonders What for

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Walter G. Arvin, 38, of nearby Trenton has received two military medals—almost 20 years late—and even he doesn't know what one represents.

Retired Maj. Gen. Forrest Harding of Franklin presented the Purple Heart and Bronze Star Medals to Arvin Wednesday. Arvin knows for sure about the Purple Heart—he was wounded twice in January 1944 during the Battle of the Bulge in Europe. The Bronze Star citation was for "meritorious achievement in ground operations" but Arvin doesn't know just what that covered.

The order for the medals came from the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt in February 1944 but they weren't executed until July of this year.

New State Statute Provides For Fire Station Program

Townships, township fire districts and municipalities may build fire houses and pay for them over a four-year period under a new law to become effective Sept. 2, State Representative Ed Wallace of Pickaway County pointed out today.

The new statute, enacted by the 105th Ohio General Assembly, provides that deferred payments for the buildings shall be made under the same conditions as those for fire-fighting equipment.

However, it changes those conditions to require a minimum of one-fourth of the purchase price to be paid in cash at the time of purchase and annual payments and notes securing them represent a minimum, or a fourth of the total price.

Rep. Wallace said the old law required payments be a fourth at time of purchase and the balance in notes, with amounts not specified, maturing in two, three and four years.

Another new law, effective the same day, Wallace added, will allow sickness and accident insurance companies, authorized to do business in Ohio, to form an association to offer a group policy to Ohioans 65 years of age or older and their spouses, subject to reasonable underwriting restrictions.

The association could enroll persons through any licensed sickness and accident insurance agent.

Other new laws becoming operative on the same day include those to:

Revise laws governing the Higher Education Assistance Commission, requiring approval of a majority of five members, instead of only a majority of those present at a meeting, of actions by the commission and requiring the special-interest charges on loans be used, in part, to reimburse the state general fund for commission expenses.

Provide that a court order changing the name of a person whose original birth certificate was recorded prior to creation of the state bureau of vital statistics be filed in the probate court of the county where the person was born and upon request such court shall issue a new birth certificate.

Make the father of an illegitimate child subject to the law against neglect or mistreatment of a child without being charged by a law with support or education of the child.

Permit appeal from a fire marshal's order.

'Honor-the-Boss Day' Proposed

NEW YORK (AP)—Some one has made the suggestion that, since we have a national holiday for labor, we should have a national holiday for management, too.

Sounds fair enough, doesn't it? If we have a national hot dog month, a national week in which to ponder the juicy virtues of the dill pickle, certainly we can all pause in our tasks long enough to celebrate a national honor the boss day.

Bosses could use a little moral appreciation, an annual pat on the back.

The employer class has been taking it on the chin for some time now. Caught between the demands for increased pay by unions, and demands for increased profits by stockholders, many a lonely company president has wondered whether his split-level yacht was worth the price of it all.

This is particularly true since the government has begun even to question his right to use the yacht except when he can prove he is employing it for the sole purpose of fishing for more company business.

If the idea of a national day to celebrate the role of management in the economy catches on, many will be puzzled just how to observe it.

What is the best way to honor the boss? Well, since the worker abstains from work on Labor Day, it would appear that management should be allowed to refrain from managing on national management day.

Here are a few tips on how any office staff can make the boss feel they realize he is important to the firm's endeavor, and that beneath his gruff exterior there beats an honest heart:

First, put gin in the office water cooler to help generate a friendly, relaxed atmosphere.

Wrap his swivel chair in gay, colorful bunting. Everybody take a voluntary 15 per cent pay cut for this one day. Insist that he stand at the head of the line during both the first and second morning coffee breaks.

As soon as his cup runneth o'er, everybody sit in a circle on the floor while the boss tells how much he missed the good old days when he worked 64 hours a week for the firm for $3.50.

It is now 10:50 a.m. It is time to hand the boss his golf clubs, thump him fondly between the shoulder blades and tell him "take the rest of the day off, chief. Happy putting."

Then all the employees rush to their desks and work like beavers doing all the jobs they should have done last week. With no boss around to bother them, they should be finished by noon — in time to go out and join him en masse on the 8th tee.

National honor the boss day? It's a grand idea. Why hasn't anybody thought of it before? What's good for the boss can be even better for the bossed.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatniks are out. But every shaving man is a target in the battle of the chins. All of the big U.S. razor blade makers are now in the stainless steel fracas started more than a year ago by British invader.

The long lasting blade has been relatively scarce and regarded by some of its users as a status symbol.

The stainless steel blades and their older brothers made of carbon steel are now likely to be engaged in more of an economic battle. The struggle will be keenest between the competitive American makes. And the victory may go to performance, or to retail price, or to cost of production and distribution — not the willingness of the American male to change his ways.

The giant provider of the older and familiar razor blade, the Gillette Company, with about 70 per cent of the American market, says it will enter the stainless steel blade contest in New York and Philadelphia next week and across the nation by October. Merchandising the new multiple shave item since February are Shick (subsidiary of Eversharp) and American Razor (Division of Philip Morris).

Starting the whole thing on this side of the Atlantic was a British sword maker. Blades made by Wilkinson Sword Ltd., a hit in England, were first imported in March 1962 and sold by American outlets for its better known products, garden tools. Advertised by word of mouth they caught on fast and were hard to find.

But American production methods may soon make them commonplace.

Performance ultimately will be judged by the American males, each one doubtless convinced that his own chin is a special and peculiar problem.

Price differentials, at least at the start of the contest, are these: Wilkinson's usually sell at five for 75 cents or 15 cents a blade. Shicks and American razor's Personna double-edged blades are regularly priced at five for 79 cents. Gillette says it will retail its stainless steel blades at six for 89 cents, making them the cheapest at 14.83 cents a blade. The older, carbon steel, double-edged blades range from 3.5 cents to 6.9 cents a blade.

Production costs are the secrets of the competing companies, but the stainless steel blades are more difficult and more expensive to make. The American firms already had been making stainless steel blades in the mills of their European subsidiaries. Their new or converted American plants are reported capable of turning out many times the number of blades that Wilkinson has been allotting to its American market.

The chemical destruction of the tumor cells is based on the newer knowledge of the individual peculiarities and behavior of these cells.

Dr. Zimmer and many other scientists proceed in orderly fashion to try to uncover more and more of the mystery of cellular structure in an effort to find the exact group of chemicals which may yet prove to be the answer to the call in the wilderness for a cure of cancer.

Allergy has been known to rescue medicine from many difficult situations. It is not unusual, for example, to suggest an allergy may be responsible when the causative factor of an illness cannot be determined. Actually, many annoying conditions have been traced to bizarre allergies.

Now, additional scientific importance has been attributed to the all-pervasive culprit, allergy. Married couples whose lack of fertility has not been adequately explained may yet find there is an allergic basis to their problem.

Studies at Wayne University suggest the possibility that the sperm of some males do not survive because of an allergic response to some female secretions.

These new allergic studies have opened avenues of investigation that may extend to the consideration that some blood groupings may be a factor in infertility.

Contrary to popular belief young children can and do develop ulcers of the stomach and the duodenum.

The diagnosis of these peptic ulcers is often difficult to make because the symptoms do not always follow a pattern. The vague term, "bellyache," is a common complaint of children. Parents are not likely to take these generalized symptoms too seriously.

In most instances, children who complain of such abdominal discomfort do not have ulcers. However, if symptoms of discomfort recur at frequent intervals with a definite pattern before or after meals, the possibility of an ulcer should be considered.

X-rays of the stomach and duodenum of children are essential to the diagnosis. Sometimes even X-rays fail to reveal an existing ulcer. Therefore it is unwise and unfair to the child to dismiss these vague abdominal pains as a childhood psychological ruse for not fulfilling his school and social obligations.

Ulcers do occur in children. As with adults, it is important to seek the possible psychological as well as the physical cause of the condition.

Africa and Freedom

By John Chamberlain

The handwriting is on the wall for any nation opposing the aims of the African states that formed a common front recently at Addis Ababa in Ethiopia. Franco's Spain — bowing, even as de Gaulle's France did on Algeria — has signified that it is willing to relinquish its hold on the few square miles of African territory that it still retains. And, inexorably, the African representatives at the UN press their case for getting Portugal out of Angola and Mozambique and for boycotting South Africa as long as it persists in its policies of apartheid.

The Addis Ababa Africans will get their way because of something that started in 1776, when American Britishers, resenting King George III's denial of their rights, declared themselves to be free. But few Americans today will stand up and cheer when the Africans try to link their new tradition of "freedom" with our old one. For the fact is that the twentieth century "revolution" in Africa is a corruption of the eighteenth century revolution. It does not stand for individual rights, it stands for national power.

The continuity of our revolution is a tradition has been cut, and the terrible thing about it is that school children who traipse through the UN Building in New York City are hardly aware of it as they watch Mr. Quaison Sackey of Ghana, for example, denounce the white "master race" of South Africa without mentioning the habits of his boss at home, Dictator Nkrumah, who considers any political opposition to the governing clique of Ghana to be a prison offense.

Recently this columnist was browsing through a collection of sermons by American colonial clergymen that had been assembled by his friend, the Reverend Stewart Robinson, who used to preach in Elizabeth, N. J., before he retired to pursue a hobby of historical research. What was striking about the old colonial sermons was the way they had of recurring to the "party line" of the liberal revolution of the eighteenth century as it was formulated by the half-forgotten English philosopher, John Locke. Over and over again, the clergymen of 1776 drummed it into their eighteenth century parishioners that the free man had a right, not merely to national freedom but to "life, liberty and property." It was a triad, a trinity, of rights, but it was also a unity; for liberty and property, so the clergymen were certain, were the means by which a free man might aspire to control the course of his life without begging for permission to exist.

Listening to Ghana's Quaison Sackey and others at the UN, as I do from time to time, I get no sense that they care for the Lockean rights as either a trinity or a unity. They want a "right to life" for Africans as members of a sovereign collective, a nation-tribe, which is legitimate enough in terms of their own traditions. But when it comes to individual liberty, and individual property, these things are not thought of as "unalienable," in Thomas Jefferson's phrase. They are considered as gifts to be disposed of arbitrarily by government. And the white man who is faced with the prospect of having his own liberty or property violated if he chooses to stay on in Africa under local rule is usually afraid to risk it.

So we have the spectacle of English ranchers in Kenya getting ready to pull up stakes and depart despite the fact that Africa is the only home they have ever known. They have no trust that old John Locke, with his triad of rights, will mean a thing to the new Kenya rulers of tomorrow. In the Portuguese African territories European ranchers have, in good John Lockean fashion, "mixed their labor" with natural resources to create properties — and liberty — for themselves. They have done this, moreover, without practicing apartheid, or segregation.

tion. How they are threatened with extinction by the terrorist, Holden Roberto.

If the Revolution of 1776 had gone ahead in straight-line fashion, with liberators paying full deference to "life, liberty and property" as an indissoluble three-in-one, Americans might show more enthusiasm for the demands of the Africans. But freedom is not free when men, irrespective of the color of their skins, can't look forward to keeping and extracting nourishment and enjoyment from what they have labored to create.

I am perfectly sure the Africans are going to get their way, all the way from Cairo to the Cape. That is the way the winds of ideology are blowing. But what has it got to do with our own revolution, which was fought for the individual, not the tribal state?

The automobile industry consumes 61.6 per cent of all the rubber used in the United States.

ARE THERE ghosts in the White House? If so, none seem to have manifested themselves to the Kennedys—as yet, at any rate. But former President Truman, Mrs. Coolidge, and Mrs. Roosevelt all reported apparitions of Abraham Lincoln, and other strange occurrences—never under oath, however. It is a matter of record that when Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands was a guest at the White House, she swore that she saw Mrs. Lincoln march straight into her drawing room—and fainted dead away. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was convinced that the ghost of Dolly Madison dropped in one evening to pay her respects. Even Winston Churchill reported strange noises and visitations while he stayed at the White House during World War II (for top secret conferences with F.D.R. and Harry Hopkins).

Maybe these are the very ghosts who are writing those so-called "inside stories" of doings in top Washington echelons?

Africa and Freedom

By John Chamberlain

The handwriting is on the wall for any nation opposing the aims of the African states that formed a common front recently at Addis Ababa in Ethiopia. Franco's Spain — bowing, even as de Gaulle's France did on Algeria — has signified that it is willing to relinquish its hold on the few square miles of African territory that it still retains. And, inexorably, the African representatives at the UN press their case for getting Portugal out of Angola and Mozambique and for boycotting South Africa as long as it persists in its policies of apartheid.

The Addis Ababa Africans will get their way because of something that started in 1776, when American Britishers, resenting King George III's denial of their rights, declared themselves to be free. But few Americans today will stand up and cheer when the Africans try to link their new tradition of "freedom" with our old one. For the fact is that the twentieth century "revolution" in Africa is a corruption of the eighteenth century revolution. It does not stand for individual rights, it stands for national power.

The continuity of our revolutionary tradition has been cut, and the terrible thing about it is that school children who traipse through the UN Building in New York City are hardly aware of it as they watch Mr. Quaison Sackey of Ghana, for example, denounce the white "master race" of South Africa without mentioning the habits of his boss at home, Dictator Nkrumah, who considers any political opposition to be a prison offense.

Recently this columnist was browsing through a collection of sermons by American colonial clergymen that had been assembled by his friend, the Reverend Stewart Robinson, who used to preach in Elizabeth, N. J., before he retired to pursue a hobby of historical research. What was striking about the old colonial sermons was the way they had of referring to the "party line" of the liberal revolution of the eighteenth century as it was formulated by the half-forgotten English philosopher, John Locke. Over and over again, the clergyman of 1776 drummed it into their eighteenth century parishioners that the free man had a right, not merely to national freedom but to "life, liberty and property." It was a triad, a trinity, of rights, but it was also a unity; for liberty and property, so the clergymen were certain, were the means by which a free man might aspire to control the course of his life without begging for permission to exist.

Listening to Ghana's Quaison Sackey and others at the UN, as I do from time to time, I get no sense that they care for the Lockean rights as either a trinity or a unity. They want a "right to life" for Africans as members of a sovereign collective, a nation-tribe, which is legitimate enough in terms of their own traditions. But when it comes to individual liberty, and individual property, these things are not thought of as "unalienable," in Thomas Jefferson's phrase. They are considered as gifts to be disposed of arbitrarily by government. And the white man who is faced with the prospect of having his own liberty or property violated if he chooses to stay on in Africa under local rule is usually afraid to risk it.

So we have the spectacle of English ranchers in Kenya getting ready to pull up stakes and depart despite the fact that Africa is the only home they have ever known. They have no trust that old John Locke, with his triad of rights, will mean a thing to the new Kenya rulers of tomorrow. In the Portuguese African territories European ranchers have, in good John Lockean fashion, "mixed their labor" with natural resources to create properties — and liberty — for themselves. They have done this, moreover, without practicing apartheid, or segregation.

How they are threatened with extinction by the terrorist, Holden Roberto.

If the Revolution of 1776 had gone ahead in straight-line fashion, with liberators paying full deference to "life, liberty and property" as an indissoluble three-in-one, Americans might show more enthusiasm for the demands of the Africans. But freedom is not freedom when men, irrespective of the color of their skins, can't look forward to keeping and extracting nourishment and enjoyment from what they have labored to create.

I am perfectly sure the Africans are going to get their way, all the way from Cairo to the Cape. That is the way the winds of ideology are blowing. But what has it got to do with our own revolution, which was fought for the individual, not the tribal State?

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatniks are out. But every shaving man is a target in the battle of the chins. All of the big U.S. razor blade makers are now in the stainless steel fracas started more than a year ago by British invader.

The long lasting blade has been relatively scarce and regarded by some of its users as a status symbol.

The stainless steel blades and their older brothers made of carbon steel are now likely to be engaged in more of an economic battle. The struggle will be keenest between the competitive American makes and the victory may go to performance, or to retail price, or to cost of production and distribution — not the willingness of the American male to change his ways.

The giant provider of the older and familiar razor blade, the Gillette Company, with about 70 per cent of the American market, says it will enter the stainless steel blade contest in New York and Philadelphia next week and across the nation by October. Merchandising the new multiple shave item since February are Shick (subsidiary of Eversharp) and American Razor (Division of Philip Morris).

Starting the whole thing on this side of the Atlantic was a British sword maker. Blades made by Wilkinson Sword Ltd., a hit in England, were first imported in March 1962 and sold by American outlets for its better known products, garden tools. Advertised by word of mouth they caught on fast and were hard to find.

But American production methods may soon make them commonplace.

Performance ultimately will be judged by the American males, each one doubtless convinced that his own chin is a special and peculiar problem.

Price differentials, at least at the start of the contest, are these: Wilkinson's usually sell at five for 75 cents or 15 cents a blade. Shicks and American razor's Personna double-edged blades are regularly priced at five for 79 cents. Gillette says it will retail its stainless steel blades at six for 89 cents, making them the cheapest at 14.83 cents a blade. The older, carbon steel, double-edged blades range from 3.5 cents to 6.9 cents a blade.

Production costs are the secrets of the competing companies, but the stainless steel blades are more difficult and more expensive to make. The American firms already had been making stainless steel blades in the mills of their European subsidiaries. Their new or converted American plants are reported capable of turning out many times the number of blades that Wilkinson has been allotting to its American market.

Try and Stop Me

ARE THERE ghosts in the White House? If so, none seem to have manifested themselves to the Kennedys—as yet, at any rate. But former President Truman, Mrs. Coolidge, and Mrs. Roosevelt all reported apparitions of Abraham Lincoln, and other strange occurrences—never under oath, however. It is a matter of record that when Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands was a guest at the White House, she swore that she saw Mrs. Lincoln march straight into her drawing room—and fainted dead away. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson was convinced that the ghost of Dolly Madison dropped in one evening to pay her respects. Even Winston Churchill reported strange noises and visitations while he stayed at the White House during World War II (for top secret conferences with F.D.R. and Harry Hopkins).

Maybe these are the very ghosts who are writing those so-called "inside stories" of doings in top Washington echelons?

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Ask Mother

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when your father gets out a bar of soap and tries to wash off eye make-up you don't have on? Abby, this happens at least once a week. Sometimes I have to go to church with bloodshot eyes, and when my friends ask me what's wrong it's hard to think up something different every week. I am beginning to look like my mother, who is very beautiful. I promise to take your advice.

I took $75 out of my husband's and my joint savings account and I don't have any way of putting it back because I don't work. I've spent it all. I would like to know what you would do if you were in my shoes. I have to know real soon.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: I'd tell my husband about it and quit punishing myself for something that has already been done.

GIDGET

DEAR GIDGET: Enlist the help of your beautiful mother to convince your skeptical father that you are for real. Tell father to skip the soap—and YOU skip the lie.

DEAR ABBY: I haven't slept in two nights because of my problem.

Becoming Curl Cover Caps Are Available

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

There's good news for husbands from a company that's launching an all-out crusade to make curling gadgets go undercover.

Pin-curls appeared bad enough from a man's point of view, but rollers really did it! They make a wife look like a featured player in a horror picture.

"Monstrous!" said husbands to a man. "Necessary," wives retorted in self-defense.

Both sides are right. Rollers, curlers and - or pin-curls are essential but unsightly.

The solution to the dilemma is to conceal them, and one company is making a beautiful business of doing just this.

They've introduced curl cover caps that really gave a woman a headstart on glamour. Available in a variety of becoming colors, they're trimmed with lace, embroidery, ruffles and flowers.

Most of the caps are created for boudoir wear but several are designed to conceal curlers at the beach.

Some are available with matching make-up capes or with plastic-lined carryalls that can be used for storing rollers or for toting pin-money and make-up along when you head for a place in the sun.

Where will you find these camouflage caps. At notions counters in drug and department stores.

DEAR ABBY: When should a girl stop taking a stuffed animal to bed with her? My daughter is almost 16 and she still sleeps with a ratty stuffed teddy bear she's had since she was three. All the years she went to summer camp she dragged that shabby-looking teddy bear along. I've been after her to throw it away, but she won't do it. Should I "accidentally" throw it out while cleaning house? I am afraid that her refusal to give up babyish toys might retard her emotional growth.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR WORRIED: Don't worry. And don't "accidentally" throw out the teddy bear. It apparently provides your daughter with the feeling of security she needs. If she shows other signs of "emotional retardation," talk to your doctor about it. Your nagging could do her more harm than sleeping with the teddy bear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PFC. MEDeiros, WATTS, HADFIELD AND PAQUETTE OF THE USMC: Bored? Whoever composed that letter to me could entertain the whole outfit with fairy tales.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Decorating Tips, Opinions Listed By Expert

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Women have long been copying the First Lady's fashions. Now they're following her lead when it comes to decorating.

That's the opinion of an expert, Melvin Dwork, who served on a national decorating committee for the diplomatic reception room of the White House.

For example, he says, Jacqueline Kennedy's love of flowers has made women everywhere more aware of them and how effective they can be as home accessories.

"Bouquets bring warmth to a setting," says Mr. Dwork. "Plants and flowers also add texture."

"That's one reason why flowers make the perfect 'house gift.' You can wire them to friends anywhere and you can't go wrong," he suggests, "because they'll fit in with any kind of decor."

"Choosing an ash tray, statue or some other accessory for a gift can be a tricky business. It just may not fit in. But flowers or house plants are always right."

Mrs. Kennedy's preference for informal arrangements is one women are copying in a big way says Mr. Dwork, who suggests flowers for every room in the house. Flowers and plants displayed on window shelves, he says, make a most delightful window dressing.

Flowers can also be combined with other accessories to brighten table tops and buffets. And what's more effective than a floral arrangement on the dining table?

The first lady has also set a good example in furniture arranging.

"She's grouped pieces together in conversational arrangements," reports Mr. Dwork. "It's taken away the 'museum look' the White House once had and has given the presidential mansion lived-in charm."

Women frequently make errors when arranging furniture, says this decorator. Lining it up along walls is monotonous. A few pieces have to be arranged "in" the room to create interest and break up the floor plan.

Women should also be wary of clutter, he advises. It exhausts the eye. Don't group too many accessories or too many wall hangings together.

What other tips does this expert suggest for home decorators? Here's a list:

1. Don't use different wallpaper patterns in different rooms that open on each other.

2. Do hang pictures at a comfortable height for viewing. In a grouping, arrange pictures in order of importance. The one that deserves prime attention should be lowest down and easiest to see.

3. Don't drape out a beautiful view. It can enrich a room the same way a good painting can.

4. Colorscheme so that the shades you use in a setting go well with the furniture in the room.

Danish woods, for example, come from a land of cool colors — blues, mauves and greens. Oranges, reds and other warm shades, on the other hand, are compatible with furniture from such countries as Spain or Italy.

5. Avoid monotony by mixing furniture periods. When all furniture matches, it's uninteresting.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

COMPROMISE: Congress has sent President Kennedy legislation authorizing a $5,350,820,400 civilian space program for the current fiscal year.

The spending ceiling approved Wednesday by the House, 248 to 125, and by the Senate by voice vote is a compromise of authorizations voted earlier by the two chambers and is $362 million below the President's request.

Included is $1,147,400,000 for the Apollo project, designed to send astronauts to the moon by 1970.

FLYING POUCHES: Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says Congress "may be forced to knock some heads together" unless transatlantic military transports find some way of hauling diplomatic pouches on a regular basis.

The Arkansas Democrat expressed amazement Wednesday at testimony by William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary of state for administration, that diplomatic couriers and their pouches often cannot ride flights of the Military Air Transport Service.

Crockett asked the Senate to add $153,400 to $1,127,800 previously voted by the House so he could send State Department couriers to Europe twice weekly on commercial air lines.

Crockett said MATS regulations let diplomatic couriers aboard only if they were unable to fly by commercial airlines.

PACT PLAN: Teamsters delegates have cleared the way for achievement of a prize goal of union President James R. Hoffa—a uniform, national motor freight labor contract.

Some 400 of the delegates helped set up the machinery Wednesday by approving two resolutions. One sets forth the constitutional basis for negotiation of the uniform contract and procedures for rank and file acceptance. The second provides for appointment of a national policy committee.

The policy group will create a 10-member negotiating committee. These negotiators would meet with management representatives to write the national contract. It would supplant local contracts as they expire next year.

Dear Abby:

by Abigail Van Buren

Ask Mother

DEAR ABBY: What do you do when your father gets out a bar of soap and tries to wash off eye make-up you don't have on? Abby, this happens at least once a week. Sometimes I have to go to church with bloodshot eyes, and when my friends ask me what's wrong it's hard to think up something different every week. I am beginning to look like my mother, who is very beautiful. I promise to take your advice.

GIDGET

DEAR GIDGET: Enlist the help of your beautiful mother to convince your skeptical father that you are for real. Tell father to skip the soap—and YOU skip the lie.

DEAR ABBY: I haven't slept in two nights because of my problem.

Becoming Curl Cover Caps Are Available

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

There's good news for husbands from a company that's launching an all-out crusade to make curling gadgets go undercover.

Pin-curls appeared bad enough from a man's point of view, but rollers really did it! They make a wife look like a featured player in a horror picture.

"Monstrous!" said husbands to a man. "Necessary," wives retorted in self-defense.

Both sides are right. Rollers, curlers and - or pin-curls are essential but unsightly.

The solution to the dilemma is to conceal them, and one company is making a beautiful business of doing just this.

They've introduced curl cover caps that really gave a woman a headstart on glamour. Available in a variety of becoming colors, they're trimmed with lace, embroidery, ruffles and flowers.

Most of the caps are created for boudoir wear but several are designed to conceal curlers at the beach.

Some are available with matching make-up capes or with plastic-lined carryalls that can be used for storing rollers or for toting pin-money and make-up along when you head for a place in the sun.

Where will you find these camouflaging caps. At notions counters in drug and department stores.

I took $75 out of my husband's and my joint savings account and I don't have any way of putting it back because I don't work. I've spent it all. I would like to know what you would do if you were in my shoes. I have to know real soon.

WORRIED SICK

DEAR WORRIED: I'd tell my husband about it and quit punishing myself for something that has already been done.

DEAR ABBY: When should a girl stop taking a stuffed animal to bed with her? My daughter is almost 16 and she still sleeps with a ratty stuffed teddy bear she's had since she was three. All the years she went to summer camp she dragged that shabby-looking teddy bear along. I've been after her to throw it away, but she won't do it. Should I "accidentally" throw it out while cleaning house? I am afraid that her refusal to give up babyish toys might retard her emotional growth.

WORRIED MOTHER

DEAR WORRIED: Don't worry. And don't "accidentally" throw out the teddy bear. It apparently provides your daughter with the feeling of security she needs. If she shows other signs of "emotional retardation," talk to your doctor about it. Your nagging could do her more harm than sleeping with the teddy bear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PFC. MEDEIROS, WATTS, HADFIELD AND PAQUETTE OF THE USMC: Bored? Whoever composed that letter to me could entertain the whole outfit with fairy tales.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Guest Night Slated Wednesday by Group

Members of The Child Advancement Club will observe guest night when they meet 7:30 p. m. Wednesday in Prairie Lanes Party Room.

A turban mold is just right for baking a yeast-risen "baba" cake. Be sure to grease and flour the mold before adding the dough.

Decorating Tips, Opinions Listed By Expert

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN

Women have long been copying the First Lady's fashions. Now they're following her lead when it comes to decorating.

That's the opinion of an expert, Melvin Dwork, who served on a national decorating committee for the diplomatic reception room of the White House.

For example, he says, Jacqueline Kennedy's love of flowers has made women everywhere more aware of them and how effective they can be as home accessories.

"Bouquets bring warmth to a setting," says Mr. Dwork. "Plants and flowers also add texture. That's one reason why flowers make the perfect 'house gift.' You can wire them to friends anywhere and you can't go wrong," he suggests, "because they'll fit in with any kind of decor."

"Choosing an ash tray, statue or some other accessory for a gift can be a tricky business. It just may not fit in. But flowers or house plants are always right."

Mrs. Kennedy's preference for informal arrangements is one women are copying in a big way says Mr. Dwork, who suggests flowers for every room in the house. Flowers and plants displayed on window shelves, he says, make a most delightful window dressing.

Flowers can also be combined with other accessories to brighten table tops and buffets. And what's more effective than a floral arrangement on the dining table?

The first lady has also set a good example in furniture arranging.

"She's grouped pieces together in conversational arrangements," reports Mr. Dwork. "It's taken away the 'museum look' the White House once had and has given the presidential mansion lived-in charm."

Women frequently make errors when arranging furniture, says this decorator. Lining it up along walls is monotonous. A few pieces have to be arranged "in" the room to create interest and break up the floor plan.

Women should also be wary of clutter, he advises. It exhausts the eye. Don't group too many accessories or too many wall hangings together.

What other tips does this expert suggest for home decorators? Here's a list:

1. Don't use different wallpaper patterns in different rooms that open on each other.
2. Do hang pictures at a comfortable height for viewing. In a grouping, arrange pictures in order of importance. The one that deserves prime attention should be lowest down and easiest to see.
3. Don't drape out a beautiful view. It can enrich a room the same way a good painting can.
4. Colorscheme so that the shades you use in a setting go well with the furniture in the room.
5. Danish woods, for example, come from a land of cool colors—blues, mauves and greens. Oranges, reds and other warm shades, on the other hand, are compatible with furniture from such countries as Spain or Italy.
6. Avoid monotony by mixing furniture periods. When all furniture matches, it's uninteresting.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

COMPROMISE: Congress has sent President Kennedy legislation authorizing a $5,350,820,400 civilian space program for the current fiscal year.

The spending ceiling approved Wednesday by the House, 248 to 125, and by the Senate by voice vote is a compromise of authorizations voted earlier by the two chambers and is $362 million below the President's request.

Included is $1,147,400,000 for the Apollo project, designed to send astronauts to the moon by 1970.

FLYING POUCHES: Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., says Congress "may be forced to knock some heads together" unless transatlantic military transports find some way of hauling diplomatic pouches on a regular basis.

The Arkansas Democrat expressed amazement Wednesday at testimony by William J. Crockett, deputy undersecretary of state for administration, that diplomatic couriers and their pouches often cannot ride flights of the Military Air Transport Service.

Crockett asked the Senate to add $153,400 to $1,127,800 previously voted by the House so he could send State Department couriers to Europe twice weekly on commercial air lines.

Crockett said MATS regulations let diplomatic couriers aboard only if they were unable to fly by commercial airlines.

PACT PLAN: Teamsters delegates have cleared the way for achievement of a prize goal of union President James R. Hoffa—a uniform, national motor freight labor contract.

Some 400 of the delegates helped set up the machinery Wednesday by approving two resolutions. One sets forth the constitutional basis for negotiation of the uniform contract and procedures for rank and file acceptance. The second provides for appointment of a national policy committee.

The policy group will create a 10-member negotiating committee. These negotiators would meet with management representatives to write the national contract. It would supplant local contracts as they expire next year.

Joan, wife of movie producer Walter Wanger, has six grandchildren.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI gave a private audience Wednesday to Abba P. Schwartz and George Warren, U.S. State Department officials who handle refugee problems. They are in Europe on a survey trip.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's supermarkets are cooperating to help take the labor out of meal-fixing this Labor Day weekend.

Hamburger and ground beef are widely featured for quick meals. Hams, picnics and Boston butts are easily prepared pork items. Chicken fryers are another entry in the simple meal derby.

Sandwich items include canned tuna and peanut butter. Eggs, especially small ones, are economically priced for egg-salad this weekend.

Those desiring a season-end cookout will find an ample supply of rib steaks and spareribs at meat counters.

Small turkeys and quartered turkeys are other economical dishes that lend themselves to oven or grill preparation.

Vegetable selections continue broad, though some items are diminishing as the summer peak wanes. Best buys nationally include green beans, cabbage, topped carrots, celery, bell peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, potatoes, onions and lettuce.

Regional vegetable features include eggplant in the Northeast, blackeye peas and squash in the Southwest and artichokes and broccoli on the West Coast.

Among fruits, watermelon and cantaloupe are still the best buys. Other attractions include nectarines, peaches and plums, with some areas getting a good supply of apples. Grapefruit is attractively priced in the West.

Grape bargains will become increasingly attractive in price in coming weeks as a bumper crop comes to market.

Hamilton City Manager Resigns

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Aaron Marsh submitted his resignation today as Hamilton city manager, to be effective not later than next Dec. 31.

Marsh advised the mayor and City Council the terminal period would allow time for selection of a new city manager and give him an opportunity to consider other jobs.

Marsh said he had made the decision to quit some time ago and said he wanted to "remove myself as an issue in the coming councilmanic campaign."

He did not elaborate on that statement.

Marsh, who came here from a similar job at Florence, S. C., has been Hamilton city manager for three years and three months. He is a native of Taylor, Pa., and formerly held city government jobs in Phoenix, Ariz., and Philadelphia.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The discipline and tranquility of Wednesday's civil rights demonstration will not be the permanent condition of the American Negro if he continues to be frustrated.

As they marched and stood in the sun for hours the massive quietude of perhaps 180,000 Negroes was amazing, when it is remembered how much in American life has been denied them.

But this performance was for one day only.

The warning of brief quietude, if white Americans continue to deprive Negroes of equal treatment, came from the one Negro who above all has preached non-violent resistance, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

He said: "It would be fatal for the nation to overlook the urgency of the moment and to underestimate the determination of the Negro."

All but one of the speakers in this gigantic petition for "redress of grievances" talked with restraint about the desire for equal justice and the Negroes' hope that Congress will help them get it.

The exception was John Lewis, the militant head of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

He revealed the bitter impatience just below the surface in himself and others with these words:

"This nation is still a place of cheap political leaders who guild their careers on immoral compromise and ally themselves with open forms of political, economic and social exploitation."

"What political leader can stand up and say 'my party is the party of principle'? The party of Kennedy is also the party of Eastland. The party of Javits is also the party of Goldwater. Where is our party?"

It is now 95 years and one month since adoption of the 14th Amendment made the Negroes citizens beyond question and guaranteed them protection from any violation of their rights as citizens.

Their rights have been violated ever since.

King, lest white people assume that because the Negro has endured this until now he is a permanent patsy and Wednesday's peaceful demonstration proved it, told both the crowd and the nation:

"Those who hope the Negro needed to blow off steam and will now be content will have a rude awakening if the nation returns to business as usual."

"There will be neither rest nor tranquility in America until the Negro is granted his citizenship rights. The whirlwinds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our nation until the bright day of justice emerges."

He could not have given a clearer warning of turmoil unless the wrongs are righted. Not all Negroes have accepted King's philosophy of nonviolent resistance to injustice or evil.

They have shown they don't by some of their violent outbursts since he first began to use non-violent resistance, and successfully, with his peaceful boycott of the Montgomery, Ala., buses in 1955-56.

Only a comparative few at any time have accepted this philosophy from a leader. To believe it requires complete conviction it is the only right means to seek justice.

Millions of Indians practiced nonviolent resistance under the guidance of Mohandas Gandhi without believing it, as their later violence showed. But even Gandhi himself hadn't always practiced it.

In India in his time it just happened to be a necessary technique of resistance to the British when the British had superior power. When the Indians got their independence thousands of Hindus and Moslems slaughtered one another.

In this country racial violence was increasing until the time for Wednesday's civil rights march drew near. Then the violence disappeared as if to let the march dominate the scene. It's over now.

But the discriminations against Negroes are not over. Their determination to batter down the discriminations, as King pointed out, are not over. Therefore more violence can be expected, perhaps on an increasing scale.

Heavy Road Patrol Slated for Holiday
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Highway Safety Director Warren C. Nelson announced today a stepped-up program by all state enforcement agencies to curb traffic accidents over the upcoming three-day Labor Day weekend.

"Our state highway patrol, the sheriff's departments and the municipal police will be out in full force, including auxiliaries where available, all over the state," Nelson said.

The director added that caution, care and courtesy are guide lines for every driver and pedestrian to follow.

Ohioan Killed as Boat Rams Retaining Wall
CINCINNATI (AP)—A pleasure jaunt in a 16-foot outboard boat ended in death for Oliver Utzinger, 38, of nearby Cleves, serious injury to his wife, Inez, 39, and lesser hurts to two others.

Utzinger's boat crashed head-on into a steel retaining wall at the Ohio River's edge Wednesday.

The nation's supermarkets are cooperating to help take the labor out of meal-fixing this Labor Day weekend.

Hamburger and ground beef are widely featured for quick meals. Hams, picnics and Boston butts are easily prepared pork items. Chicken fryers are another entry in the simple meal derby.
Sandwich items include canned tuna and peanut butter. Eggs, especially small ones, are economically priced for egg-salad this weekend.

Those desiring a season-end cookout will find an ample supply of rib steaks and spareribs at meat counters.

Small turkeys and quartered turkeys are other economical dishes that lend themselves to oven or grill preparation.

Vegetable selections continue broad, though some items are diminishing as the summer peak wanes. Best busy nationally include green beans, cabbage, topped carrots, celery, bell peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, potatoes, onions and lettuce.

Regional vegetable features include eggplant in the Northeast, blackeye peas and squash in the Southwest and artichokes and broccoli on the West Coast.

Among fruits, watermelon and cantaloupe are still the best buys. Other attractions include nectarines, peaches and plums, with some areas getting a good supply of apples. Grapefruit is attractively priced in the West.

Grape bargains will become increasingly attractive in price in coming weeks as a bumper crop comes to market.

Bob Febes of the U. S. Army returned by plane to Germany Thursday after being home on emergency leave due to the death of his father. He was guest of honor at a supper with 21 guests present at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Disbennett last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Disbennett and family, Bob Febes and Dave Storts visited P. T. Febes and family of Huntington, W. Va., last weekend.

Miss Kathy Williams and Miss Elnore Disbennett returned home Saturday from Camp Otterbein where they had spent the week.

Eleanor Donahue, eldest daughter in "Father Knows Best," had a season in "The Andy Griffith Show," then dropped out to have a baby. Eleanor, wife of screen gems official Harry Ackerman, does guest shots in several series.

Johnny Crawford, Chuck Connors' son in "Rifleman," has been appearing in a western film, "Indian Paint."

Lori Martin, the second "National Velvet" girl (Elizabeth Taylor was the first), has been going to school since the series folded. "There isn't much work for a girl my age," laments Lori, now 16.

Tony Dow, the older brother of "Leave it to Beaver," has done a "Mr. Novak" and "My Three Sons" and is up for a continuing role in another series.

Jerry Mathers, Beaver himself, has virtually retired at 15. Sheeley Fabares outgrew the "Donna Reed Show"; the explanation is that she's "Away at college."

Richard Keith, who played young Ricky in the "I Love Lucy" series, is 12 and has had occasional television roles.

Here is news to make you feel your age. Remember Tommy Rettig, first pal of "Lassie"? Now a free-lancer, he's 21 and father of two.

New Fire Fighting Equipment Displayed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A score of fire fighting officials from Chicago, Columbus, Hampton, Va., and nearby Lockbourne Air Force Base watched Wednesday as a radical new piece of fire fighting equipment and rescue apparatus had its final test run.

The equipment, produced by the Columbus Seagrave Apparatus Division of the F. W. D. Corp., has been christened the "Eagle." It is a 90-foot three-jointed adaption of an aerial ladder that consists of a platform or cradle-type boom and water tower.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The discipline and tranquility of Wednesday's civil rights demonstration will not be the permanent condition of the American Negro if he continues to be frustrated.

As they marched and stood in the sun for hours the massive quietude of perhaps 180,000 Negroes was amazing, when it is remembered how much in American life has been denied them.

But this performance was for one day only.

The warning of brief quietude, if white Americans continue to deprive Negroes of equal treatment, came from the one Negro who above all has preached non-violent resistance, Rev. Martin Luther King Jr.

He said: "It would be fatal for the nation to overlook the urgency of the moment and to underestimate the determination of the Negro."

All but one of the speakers in this gigantic petition for "redress of grievances" talked with restraint about the desire for equal justice and the Negroes' hope that Congress will help them get it.

The exception was John Lewis, the militant head of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee.

He revealed the bitter impatience just below the surface in himself and others with these words:

"This nation is still a place of cheap political leaders who build their careers on immoral compromise and ally themselves with open forms of political, economic and social exploitation."

"What political leader can stand up and say 'my party is the party of principle'? The party of Kennedy is also the party of Eastland. The party of Javits is also the party of Goldwater. Where is our party?"

It is now 95 years and one month since adoption of the 14th Amendment made the Negroes citizens beyond question and guaranteed them protection from any violation of their rights as citizens.

Their rights have been violated ever since.

King, lest white people assume that because the Negro has endured this until now he is a permanent patsy and Wednesday's peaceful demonstration proved it, told both the crowd and the nation:

"Those who hope the Negro needed to blow off steam and will now be content will have a rude awakening if the nation returns to business as usual."

"There will be neither rest nor tranquility in America until the Negro is granted his citizenship rights. The whirlwinds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our nation until the bright day of justice emerges."

He could not have given a clearer warning of turmoil unless the wrongs are righted. Not all Negroes have accepted King's philosophy of nonviolent resistance to injustice or evil.

They have shown they don't by some of their violent outbursts since he first began to use non-violent resistance, and successfully, with his peaceful boycott of the Montgomery, Ala., buses in 1955-56.

Only a comparative few at any time have accepted this philosophy from a leader. To believe it requires complete conviction it is the only right means to seek justice.

Millions of Indians practiced nonviolent resistance under the guidance of Mohandas Gandhi without believing it, as even Gandhi himself hadn't always practiced it.

In India in his time it just happened to be a necessary technique of resistance to the British when the British had superior power. When the Indians got their independence thousands of Hindus and Moslems slaughtered one another.

In this country racial violence was increasing until the time for Wednesday's civil rights march drew near. Then the violence disappeared as if to let the march dominate the scene. It's over now.

But the discriminations against Negroes are not over. Their determination to batter down the discriminations, as King pointed out, are not over. Therefore more violence can be expected, perhaps on an increasing scale.

The director added that caution, care and courtesy are guide lines for every driver and pedestrian to follow.

Rhodes Proclaims Child Safety Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Children will be returning to school soon, and motorists must take extra precaution everywhere, on city streets, country roads and on open highways, Gov. James A. Rhodes says in a special executive proclamation.

The governor proclaimed the week of Sept. 4-11 as Child Safety Week in Ohio, pointing out that schools throughout the state will be reopening their doors during the month.

Presence of the children on streets and roads the governor said "increases the need for motorists to be constantly alert to the need for special caution."

Pension Funds Grow

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It was suddenly decided last February to make a television series to be called "The Greatest Show On Earth."

A bright young producer, Stanley Colbert, was called in, handed the title—and nine weeks to come up with the idea for a dramatic series plus a pilot show.

Colbert, 35, made his deadline, and "The Greatest Show On Earth" will have its ABC premiere on Sept. 17, a circus tale starring Jack Palance.

The producer explained that developing an hour dramatic show involves, largely, following a time-honored recipe.

"First," he said, "you must have a man—a hero—who is in the center of things and to whom things happen. In our show, it almost had to be the owner of the circus, That's Palance."

Then, he continued, there must be a second character—"Ben Casey's Zorba or Dr. Kildare's Gillespie."

"In television mechanics, there must be a source of secondary pressures on the leading man," he continued. "First, you put the lead in conflict with the guest star. Then you heap on added pressure, as when Zorba says, 'Oh, Ben Casey, you can't walk in and play God.' And finally, you have another pressure added—the girl who wants Casey to treat her like a woman, not a lab technician."

"All hour-long television shows—50 minutes, really—are based on this format," said Colbert, "except, of course, comedies. It takes just about that long to solve all the problems."

"Greatest Show On Earth," in this classic groove, has Palance playing the man who gets the pressures. His Zorba is Stuart Erwin, playing the circus comptroller. And, then, of course, there are the guest stars. Colbert believes, however, that he has a big extra going for him—the flavor, excitement and color of a circus background.

Irked Motorist Sends Bill to Cops

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—A St. Marys man, irritated about being cited for a parking violation, has filled the police department for $2—his fee for manual labor in turning a parking meter's handle.

Lt. Charles Muether said the department doesn't intend to pay. The motorist, Glenn Matthews, 29, refused at first to pay his $1 fine, police said, and was ordered to appear in court. He then sent his check . . . and his bill. Police wouldn't have any of it. Matthews pleaded not guilty in municipal court, but was found guilty and fined $2 and costs—costs suspended—by Judge Carlton C. Reiser.

5 Kentuckians Tied To Sale of Narcotics

The men, arrested in Covington, Ky., Tuesday, reportedly had 12,000 pills and capsules in their possession. Officers said Cincinnati juveniles were crossing into Kentucky to make purchases.

State Patrol Urges Caution During Labor Day Weekend

"Don't let familiarity with roads lull you into a complacent attitude that an accident can't happen to you!"

This was the warning issued today by Highway Patrol Sgt. S. L. Adomaitis of the Circleville Post as he and his men prepared for the battle against traffic accidents during the coming Labor Day weekend.

"Most people," the Sergeant said, "seem to think that accidents happen to those who are not familiar with highways they are traveling. This is a fallacy, the sergeant pointed out, and referred to the accident record over the Fourth of July holiday to prove his point. Fourteen out of nineteen fatal accidents occurred in the county of residence of the victim resulting in 17 of the 29 traffic deaths."

This Labor Day weekend will be the last major holiday of the summer season. State Highway patrolmen have been instructed to be especially alert for both travelers and local drivers who fail to comply with traffic regulations and courtesies of the road.

The Department of Highway Safety analysis of July Fourth holiday accidents reveals that excessive speed caused the most deaths, with failure to yield the right-of-way running a close second, and driving left-of-center the third major cause. Other contributing factors entered into these accidents and, after reviewing these, Sgt. Adomaitis safe driving tips to Labor Day weekend drivers:

1. Driving is a full time job. Visiting and conversation with other passengers in the vehicle often diverts the driver's attention from this responsibility. Avoid any distractions.

2. On short local trips too many passengers will often ride in a car. The result is obstructed vision for the driver and restricted ability to control the vehicle. Limit the number of passengers, especially in the front seat.

3. Persons traveling to recreation areas often load their vehicles heavily with picnic gear, sports equipment, and often attach boat or camping trailers. They fail to consider that this additional weight causes their car to respond differently and changes its "road behavior". Drive cautiously and get the feel of your car with this added load.

4. As at any time, obedience to traffic laws and special alertness to speeds, stop signs, and driving on the right side of the road are extremely important.

"State highway patrolmen will do all they can to remove the unsafe driver from the highways," advised Sgt. Adomaitis. "You, the driver can help us help you avoid an accident by policing your own actions and driving defensively at all times."

Cleveland's Future Great, Rhodes Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland has the "greatest future of any city in the U.S.," according to Gov. James A. Rhodes, who calls Ohio's largest city "the sleeping giant."

The governor gave those descriptions in a speech to the Greater Cleveland Growth Board. He said Cleveland and Cuyahoga County "have strength, power, growth and development and redevelopment," but he added that "the governor, or the mayor can't alone do the job of pushing ahead to the full potential; everyone must work on the project."

One of Rhodes' major complaints: "There aren't any decent roads leading south out of Cleveland. You have let them treat you as second class citizens."

He said Interstate 71 was going to be pushed through to completion now and end that "isolation."

Development Foundation OKs State Bond Issue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Another endorsement has been given the proposed $250 million bond issue for capital improvements which will go before Ohio voters in November.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

Cooler air pushing into the western counties of Ohio late Wednesday night triggered heavy showers and thunderstorms mostly across the central and southern portions of the state, with rainfall amounts totaling more than one-half inch in some communities.

A few showers or thunder-showers were forecast in the southeast early today before general clearing sets in this evening and tonight.

Cooler temperatures are in store for tonight, followed by partly cloudy and mild weather Friday with showers most likely in the northern and central counties.

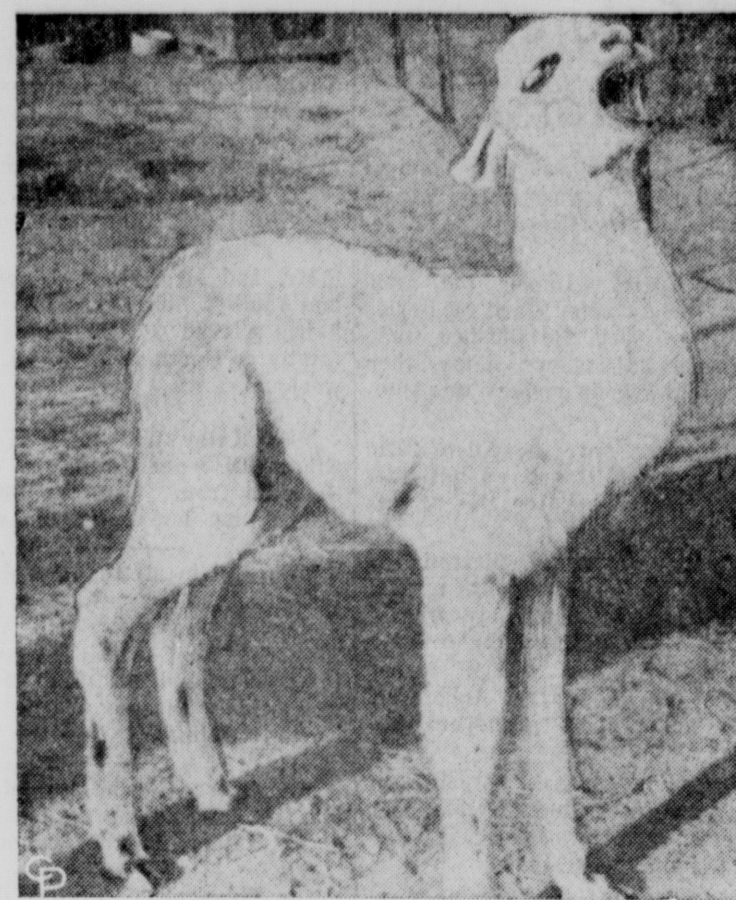

Temperatures early today included Columbus 72, Cleveland 68 and Cincinnati and Marietta 71.

Ex-Lutheran Aide Is Sent to Prison

CLEVELAND (AP)—Paul L. Wolff Jr., former treasurer of the Greater Cleveland Federation of Lutheran Churches, has been sent to prison despite pleas on his behalf by two Lutheran ministers.

Wolff pleaded guilty last month to charges of forgery and embezzlement involving $8,000 of the federation's funds. Police said Wolff used the stolen money to buy a house, pay off debts and make two trips to California.

Common Pleas Court Judge William K. Thomas sentenced Wolff to 2-27 years in prison, denying pleas for probation from the ministers—the Rev. Walter J. Luce, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, and his assistant, The Rev. Merton L. Jannusch.

HIS SPECIALTY — There is nothing like a specialty and Jerry Bartley, old time gardener and flower fancier, has a liking for tuberous begonias. Liking shade and a certain amount of moisture, tuberous rooted begonias are tricky to raise. Bartley does it with ease and pleasure. He is shown here taking a close look at his special plants.

Bartley Offers Sound Tips On Tuberous Rooted Begonias

Jerry Bartley, veteran gardener, has hit the jack pot again with his tuberous rooted begonias.

Bartley who lives at Route 4, Circleville, has 15 of the finest blooming plants that heart could wish. He has been a tuberous begonia fancier for several years. He believes his last year's blossoms were superior even to the flowers he has this year.

He gladly told us how to grow these striking plants. He buys his bulbs and starts them at the end of March.

Bartley purchases some new ones each year. And he hesitates to plant one if it has not developed a sprout. They rarely thrive if the sprout is not visible at the time of planting.

INDEED, YES he has special soil. It's a mixture of cow manure, peat moss and sand. After the plant is finished with its blooming cycle, he shakes off the soil from the bulbs and saves it. Come spring, he revitalizes it with new cow manure.

The potted plants are placed on the porch of his house where they get the morning sun and afternoon shade. They are sheltered from winds. They are watered and protected in early summer from a late nipping frost.

Then Bartley just watches them grow. Some plants drop their blossoms at a slight touch. Some cling with great tenacity. Jerry pointed out the plants which had both single and double flowers. He thinks this a curious phenomenon of nature.

Bartley had zinnias, petunias and marigolds in bloom. But he has only gardened with "half-a-heart" this summer. He is something of an iris fancier and is against the practice of cutting the foliage fans to about four inches. He explained that naturally the rhizomes needed the strength of the uncut foliage.

Jerry is the brother of Floyd Bartley, renowned Pickaway County naturalist, and Mrs. Kirby Drake. He is the uncle of Mary Ann Hildreth of Dayton. All are fine horticulturists.

Implanted deep within their hearts is an abiding love for all growing plants. And we can't think of a nicer family characteristic.

How To Prepare Zucchini Squash

Zucchini squash is a rare delicacy.

Mrs. Mable Stout, Whisler, gave us detailed instructions of it's preparation. According to her, peel the squash and cut it into slices a little over a quarter of an inch in thickness.

Dip slices in well beaten egg. Then dip in fine cracker crumbs. Fry in fat in iron skillet. Fat should be three or four inches deep.

According to Mrs. Stout, the squash takes longer to fry than one would suppose. When the crust is brown and the squash tender, remove from fat and serve.

Well, the annual water pageant is being held as usual on Labor Day at our pond. Time is 3:30 p. m. — so the actors won't get chilly.

The pageant is followed by a carry in dinner. Everybody's invited to both the pageant and the carry-in dinner.

Directions are: Go east on Route 56 to the first crossroads past the blinker light. Turn right. Our farm is where the road divides a mile off Route 56.

The pageant is "In the good Old Summer Time." We hope we'll have gay nineties atmosphere. And we think we're going to have music. How about that!

Dick Davis, Circleville Herald reporter, will direct the show. Performers will be swimmers who have come to the pond during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hannan, who left for Hawaii last Sunday are going to report on gardens and flora on the islands.

Mrs. Clyde Hedges, Tarleton, combines the juice of elder berries with her grapes for a jelly that is different.

Mrs. Marvin Steely makes an open faced peach pie that is delectable indeed. We hope to have both recipes for garden page readers.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh's garden excels in calendulas. Gwen says the flowers do not last long and it keeps her busy nipping off the spent blossoms.

Mrs. Defenbaugh believes she killed some of her phlox plants. They were victims of a small orange insect with black wings. She decided to spray them with a general rose spray which she mixed in a sprinkling can.

She used the same sprinkling can in which she had mixed a weed killer for poison ivy. However, she had rinsed the can three times with water and once with ammonia.

She was not sure whether or not the weed killer had left a residue or the rose spray was not meant for phlox.

We were inclined to believe it was the residue from the weed killer. We have noticed that people with healthy roses seem to have healthy flowers.

This spraying business is confusing. Our chief garden enemies are the plain old grasshoppers, blister beetles and slugs. Yet the spraying directions never mention these pests, but have a long list of things like winged rose beetle, lygus plant bugs, Fullers Rose beetle, leafhoppers, flower thrips, sawflies and diabrotica beetles.

I declare I don't have all those fancy bugs. I just have grasshoppers, blister beetles and slugs. These are terrible pests and very common. Yet they are never included in the lists. Why not wonder?

The Wayne Luckhart's mailbox is encircled with petunias this summer. They live at Route 1, Laurelville.

We had ourselves a ball the day we weeded the circular bed at the courthouse. We were digging out the crabgrass with a butcher knife and going at the chore in a most ferocious manner when we looked up and saw County Auditor Marvins Rhoades laughing at us. She did not accept our invitation to join the weeding crew.

Corilla Pontius, who was wielding a butcher knife and going after the crabgrass, also invited Fred Wiggins to help with the chores. He said he had retired.

But I declare I was embarrassed when Mrs. Donald Maxson came along and saw me weeding the circle. As a neighbor she knows all too well about our own neglected garden. After all, charity does begin at home. I felt like one of those women who is always cooking for the PTA and letting her own family eat hot dogs and potato chips.

We believe that maintenance of a garden club project is the direct responsibility of the garden club. But after our recent bout with the crabgrass in the courthouse circle, we'd think twice before we voted for another civic project.

The Akron Garden Clubs plant and maintain many of the beautiful gardens at Stan Hywet. This is a most impressive record and the gardens are said to be lovely.

Flower shows are upcoming now that fall is about here. Starting the season are the Logan Elm Garden Club show on September 12, the annual dahlia show September 21 and 22 at the Ross County Fairgrounds. Later comes the Columbus Strolling Flower Show on Oct. 4 and 5, our own Pumpkin Show exhibit and the Columbus annual Chrysanthemum show, the date of which I do not know.

Plant Society shows are considered standard shows and credit for exhibiting in them is given to student judges. Both the dahlia show and the mum show are in this category.

The drought didn't hurt Yvonne Drake's Garden. It is a glorious sight with roses, all sorts of August perennials and every annual in the book.

Yvonne says she got a great deal of pleasure from her row of mixed seeds. She has spent the entire summer watching something new and different bloom. She did indeed have many new and different things in this row. We identified Cynoglossum, godetia, schizanthus and annual baby's breath. Besides these she had all the old stand-bys like cosmos, snapdragons and celosia.

We heartily dislike flower seed mixtures. We've never had too much luck with them, but if something comes up that we cannot identify it's a source of frustration.

Walter Parker Well Deserves Both of His Whisler Titles

If ever anyone deserved the title "Squire of Whisler" it is Walter Parker who has lived in this village all his life.

And if ever anyone deserved the title "master vegetable gardener" it is Walter Parker who, year after year, raises excellent vegetables. Everybody is so used to the fine Parker garden that there is little talk about it, but much visiting.

This year it's his Zucchini squash patch that has caused people to beat a path to the garden. The Zucchini look like giant cucumbers. And relatives, neighbors and friends have come for their share of the harvest.

Squire Parker, whose land encompasses some 520 acres, spends a good part of his time in the garden. He said the Zucchini were about at the end of their journey, but he foraged around to find one for the garden editor.

GARDEN harvest in the Parker garden now includes lima beans, sweet corn, tomatoes, squash (butternut) and cabbage. And when we say harvest, we mean a plentiful harvest.

Mrs. Mabel Stout, housekeeper, has finished making kraut for the winter and packaging limas for the freezer. She'll be starting on the tomatoes this week.

Squire Parker says his cabbage heads were fine and big. He weighed one and it turned out to be a 14 pounder. There were many others equally as large.

It has been a tradition in the Parker garden to have a row of zinnias across the front. These are blooming now and hundreds of them measure four inches in diameter.

The squire says his late wife, Helen Brundige Parker, planted zinnias in 1916 when they first came to live in the house as newlyweds.

And the row of zinnias has been planted there ever since. Mr. Parker does not have seeds from year to year. Most of the zinnias are Burpee hybrids.

ZINNIA do not come true to color from seeds. But when he spots an especially fine flower it is saved for next year.

Parker has outwitted birds who feasted on newly ripened tomatoes. The plants were staked with metal fence posts. Birds alighted on the post tops and from there pecked at the most luscious of the fruit.

Walter topped each fence post with an empty tin can. When the birds tried to park on the wobbly tin cans they lost their balance and decided to feast elsewhere.

The Parker garden has five plantings of sweet corn a summer. The last planting was July 15.

One old-fashioned vegetable that grows in the garden is parsnips. From the looks of this healthy row, there'll be a bountiful crop.

The large and comfortable Park plant flower mixtures are Mrs. Lloyd Petty and Mrs. Turney Pontius.

er home was built in 1915. Mr. Parker says all he had to do was walk across the road from his parents' home and set up house-keeping.

THE HOUSE has bay windows and a big porch. There's a shady lawn and a latticed pumphouse. There's a lilac hedge and a couple of apple trees. There are peonies and iris and a corner of the garden for rhubarb.

And there's an English walnut tree of all things, bearing nuts. Young walnut trees sprout up here and there and in keeping with the Parker policy of sharing the surplus, these trees are given away to friends.

One of the squire's sons lives across the road with his family and another a couple of miles away. The Presbyterian Church that the squire has always attended may be seen from the garden.

To all appearances it's a pleasant, easy going life the Squire of Whisler leads. But easy going as it may look, the squire puts in many a hard lick in that big garden where the excellent vegetables grow.

SHOWING THE PRODUCE — Squire Walter Parker of Whisler displays some of his garden produce which includes tomatoes, zucchini squash and cabbage. He has lived in the village of Whisler all his life. His garden specialty this year is zucchini squash that looks much like a giant cucumber.

er home was built in 1915. Mr. Parker says all he had to do was walk across the road from his parents' home and set up house-keeping.

THE HOUSE has bay windows and a big porch. There's a shady lawn and a latticed pumphouse. There's a lilac hedge and a couple of apple trees. There are peonies and iris and a corner of the garden for rhubarb.

And there's an English walnut tree of all things, bearing nuts. Young walnut trees sprout up here and there and in keeping with the Parker policy of sharing the surplus, these trees are given away to friends.

One of the squire's sons lives across the road with his family and another a couple of miles away. The Presbyterian Church that the squire has always attended may be seen from the garden.

To all appearances it's a pleasant, easy going life the Squire of Whisler leads. But easy going as it may look, the squire puts in many a hard lick in that big garden where the excellent vegetables grow.

SHOWING THE PRODUCE — Squire Walter Parker of Whisler displays some of his garden produce which includes tomatoes, zucchini squash and cabbage. He has lived in the village of Whisler all his life. His garden specialty this year is zucchini squash that looks much like a giant cucumber.

Toledo police are going to be equipped with miniature two-way radios.

Safety Director Allen Andrews said the pocket-sized sending and receiving units are being loaned to the city for a test run by one of several radio firms contacted by the city.

Councilman Carlton Siegel suggested the step, pointing out that Middletown and a number of far western cities have used the tiny devices with good success. He said they have been especially useful in dangerous areas that are patrolled on foot.

The battery-powered unit sells for about $200 each and have an effective range of about three miles.

One-Armed Golfer Gets Another Hole-in-One

LONDON (AP)—Jack Robinson scored his second hole-in-one in four days on the 122-yard, par 3 fourth hole at the Haydock Park Golf Course Wednesday. Robinson, 47, is a one-armed golfer who was playing the course for only the fourth time.

In 33 meetings Chattanooga holds only one football victory over Tennessee. Two games were ties.

Speedy Scot Zips in Hambo

But Floris Chalks All-Time Trot Mark

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Speedy Scot won the Hambletonian as expected, but it was unsung Floris who made the premier race for 3-year-old trotters a historic one.

The $115,349 Hambletonian was decided in three heats Wednesday, Floris, winner of only one trot in eight starts this season, stunned the 23,000 fans in the stands by taking the first mile by a head over Speedy Scot in 1:57 3-5.

It was the fastest mile by a 3-year-old trotter in history, whether in a race or against the stopwatch.

Into the dust of the Du Quoin clay mile oval went the Hambletonian record of 1:58 2-5 by Harlan Dean in 1961 and the world competitive mark for 3-year-old trotters of 1:58 1-5 by Caleb at Lexington, Ky. in 1961.

In the second heat, Speedy Scot defeated Floris and his 60-year-old driver, Harry Pownall, by three-fourths of a length in 1:58. In the third and decisive mile, the two colts again battled through the stretch, Speedy Scot finishing first by a length in 1:58 3-5.

It was the 47-year-old Ralph Baldwin's first Hambletonian triumph in 13 attempts. And the combined winning time of the three heats of 5 minutes, 54 seconds was the fastest on record for a divided three-heat harness race, regardless of gait or age.

Speedy Scot, owned by Castle Farm of Lexington, Ky., boosted his career record to 20 victories in 26 starts. With the $56,619 top prize, he swelled his earnings to $238,710.

Floris, owned by Arden Homestead Stable of Goshen, N.Y., picked up $28,309 for second. Money for the other three places was $13,588 to Elma (8-3-5), $9,059 to Choir Boy (3-9-10) and $5,661 to Buff Hanover (9-11-3).

Brown Hurls All-Star Win At Chillicothe

The Circleville Little League All-Stars copped another tournament tilt last night as they thumped the Chillicothe Independent Merchants, 4-2, behind the five-hit hurling of Bryce Brown.

The locals tallied one run in the first. Chillicothe countered with one in its half of the inning.

The Stars collected one in the top of the third and the Merchants matched it in the bottom of the frame. In the sixth, Circleville bounded for two while Brown held the opponents scoreless for the remainder of the contest.

Brown's five-hit was highlighted by 10 strikeouts.

DAILY twirled for the losers and suffered the loss. He fired a nine hitter, fanning eight.

Ed Wells boomed a home run and a single for the locals. Mike Yates cracked two doubles and Ty Ankrum garnered a double and a single.

Today the local Stars meet Richmondale in the Chillicothe tourney at 8 p. m., with Dale Byrd getting the starting nod on the mound.

Circleville has lost one game in the double elimination invitational tournament.

Bosox Star Finally Conquers Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Stuart achieved one of his ambitions Wednesday. He hit a home run at Yankee Stadium.

The Boston slugger has hit 33 out of the other American League parks combined but this was his first at the famous New York ball yard. Although it represented the Red Sox' only run against Whitey Ford in a 4-1 loss to the Yankees, it was still a big thrill to the tall first baseman.

"I was afraid I might not get one here this season," Stuart said, "and I wanted to very badly. Up to now I hadn't even come close and this is our last trip here."

Teays Valley Set For Picture Day

Teays Valley football coach Marion Waits has scheduled a picture taking session starting 1 p. m. Saturday for the 1963 Viking football team.

The gridders will be dressed in game uniforms at that time, giving parents and fans a chance to photograph the entire team before the grid season opens.

The Vikings travel to Amanda-Clearcreek Sept. 6 to open their season.

The second game for the Teays Valley team finds the Circleville Tigers invading the Viking gridiron.

FEATURING an invulnerable defense and a "four yards and cloud of dust" type offense last year, the Waits coached gridders rolled to a season record of six wins, two losses and one tie.

Ten lettermen return, including co-captains John Rush, defensive fullback, and John Ridenour, offensive tackle.

According to Waits, this year's edition of the Vikings should be

Donovan Gets HR as Indians Lose Twin Bill

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Dick Donovan showed his Cleveland teammates what he had in mind in the way of hitting support with his first home run of the year.

But the Indians didn't take the cue as they dropped the second game of a two-night double header with the Chicago White Sox, 3-1, Wednesday night after losing the opener 8-3.

Juan Pizarro mystified the Tribe in the first game until the eighth inning, when Willie Tasby hit his fourth homer of the season. The Indians added two more runs in the ninth on singles by Larry Brown, Vic Davalillo and Max Alvis, an error and Joe Adcock's sacrifice fly.

Donovan's blast over the right field fence in the third inning of the nightcap tied the score at 1-1. The Sox had tallied in the inning on a walk, a double and a sacrifice fly.

In the sixth inning, the Sox picked up two runs on a pair of singles, a double by Nellie Fox and a sacrifice fly.

Eddie Fisher and Jim Brosnan, who came in to pitch in the ninth, held the Indians at bay the rest of the way.

The White Sox got to Pete Ramos in a hurry in the first inning, was to form a league in which no schools would have to travel too far.

With the adoption of a constitution Monday evening, it is the general opinion of league officials that more schools will enter the loop.

Monday night a meeting of the new league will be held to install officers and to establish athletic schedules for the 1964-65 season.

Pleasant View and Franklin Heights are currently members of the South Central Ohio League, although they have dropped from the circuit, effective next year.

Rule Book Clears Ohio Sulky Driver

CELINA, Ohio (AP)—Harness race driver Ervin Samples of Rockford, whose license was suspended by the Ohio Racing Commission, has won an appeal on a section of the commission's own rule book.

Samples had been suspended for life in 1962 after the commission ruled that a horse he was driving had been given a stimulant. The horse, Begatta, won the first race at Columbus' Scioto Downs on July 17, 1962.

Merced County Common Pleas Court Judge Paul P. Dull, in ordering the commission to grant Samples a new license Wednesday, cited the commission's Rule 311, which says that only a trainer or owner shall be responsible for the conditions of the horses entered in a race, regardless of the acts of third parties.

Yale has beaten Connecticut in all 14 football meetings.

Speedy Scot Zips in Hambo

But Floris Chalks All-Time Trot Mark

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP)—Speedy Scot won the Hambletonian as expected, but it was unsung Floris who made the premier race for 3-year-old trotters a historic one.

The $115,549 Hambletonian was decided in three heats Wednesday, Floris, winner of only one trot in eight starts this season, stunned the 23,000 fans in the stands by taking the first mile by a head over Speedy Scot in 1:57 3-5.

It was the fastest mile by a 3-year-old trotter in history, whether in a race or against the stopwatch.

Into the dust of the Du Quoin clay mile oval went the Hambletonian record of 1:58 2-5 by Harlan Dean in 1961 and the world competitive mark for 3-year-old trotters of 1:58 1-5 by Caleb at Lexington, Ky. in 1961.

In the second heat, Speedy Scot defeated Floris and his 60-year-old driver, Harry Pownall, by three-fourths of a length in 1:58. In the third and decisive mile, the two colts again battled through the stretch, Speedy Scot finishing first by a length in 1:58 3-5.

It was the 47-year-old Ralph Baldwin's first Hambletonian triumph in 13 attempts. And the combined winning time of the three heats of 5 minutes, 54 seconds was the fastest on record for a divided three-heat harness race, regardless of gait or age.

Speedy Scot, owned by Castle Farm of Lexington, Ky., boosted his career record to 20 victories in 26 starts. With the $56,619 top prize, he swelled his earnings to $238,710.

Floris, owned by Arden Homestead Stable of Goshen, N.Y., picked up $28,309 for second. Money for the other three places was $13,588 to Elma (8-3-5), $9,059 to Choir Boy (3-9-10) and $5,661 to Buff Hanover (9-11-3).

Brown Hurls All-Star Win At Chillicothe

The Chillicothe Little League All-Stars copped another tournament tilt last night as they thumped the Chillicothe Independent Merchants, 4-2, behind the five-hit hurling of Bryce Brown.

The locals tallied one run in the first, Chillicothe countered with one in its half of the inning.

The Stars collected one in the top of the third and the Merchants matched it in the bottom of the frame. In the sixth, Chillicothe bounded for two while Brown held the opponents scoreless for the remainder of the contest.

Brown's five-hit hurler was highlighted by 10 strikeouts.

DAILY twirled for the losers and suffered the loss. He fired a nine hitter, fanning eight.

Ed Wells boomed a home run and a single for the locals. Mike Yates cracked two doubles and Ty Ankrum garnered a double and a single.

Today the local Stars meet Richmondale in the Chillicothe tourney at 8 p. m., with Dale Byrd getting the starting nod on the mound.

Chillicothe has lost one game in the double elimination invitational tournament.

Bosox Star Finally Conquers Stadium

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Stuart achieved one of his ambitions Wednesday. He hit a home run at Yankee Stadium.

The Boston slugger has hit 33 out of the other American League parks combined but this was his first at the famous New York ball-yard. Although it represented the Red Sox' only run against Whitey Ford in a 4-1 loss to the Yankees, it was still a big thrill to the tall first baseman.

"I was afraid I might not get one here this season," Stuart said, "and I wanted to very badly. Up to now I hadn't even come close and this is our last trip here."

Teays Valley Set For Picture Day

Teays Valley football coach Martin Waits has scheduled a picture taking session starting 1 p. m. Saturday for the 1963 Viking football team.

The gridders will be dressed in game uniforms at that time, giving parents and fans a chance to photograph the entire team before the grid season opens.

The Vikings travel to Amanda Clearcreek Sept. 6 to open their season.

The second game for the Teays Valley team finds the Circleville Tigers invading the Viking gridiron.

FEATURING an invulnerable defense and a "four yards and cloud of dust" type offense last year, the Waits coached gridders rolled to a season record of six wins, two losses and one tie.

Ten lettermen return, including co-captains John Rush, defensive fullback, and John Ridenour, offensive tackle.

According to Waits, this year's edition of the Vikings should be faster and more experienced. A total of 55 candidates turned out for initial practice sessions at Pickaway County's newest Class AA High school.

The Vikings this year dropped from the Darby Valley League, composed largely of Class A high schools, and are currently playing an independent schedule.

Included on the slate are such perennial football powers as Circleville, always tough Lancaster Fenwick and Ironton.

Next year the TVHS gridders will be competing in the brand new South Suburban League, of which they are a charter member. Formation of the league has been under way since early in the year when Teays Valley, Franklin Heights, Hamilton Twp. and Pleasant View first met to initiate the loop.

THE PRIMARY desire of the schools, according to Russ Gregg, Teays Valley High School athletic director, was to form a league in which no schools would have to travel too far.

With the adoption of a constitution Monday evening, it is the general opinion of league officials that more schools will enter the loop.

Monday night a meeting of the new league will be held to install officers and to establish athletic schedules for the 1964-65 season.

Pleasant View and Franklin Heights are currently members of the South Central Ohio League, although they have dropped from the circuit, effective next year.

Crackers, Tribe

Face Vital Series

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indianapolis breezes into Atlanta tonight for a doubleheader, the first of two consecutive twin bills with the Crackers that could decide the championship in the Southern Division of the International League.

Atlanta increased its lead to 3½ games Wednesday night with a 7-4 victory over Buffalo while second-place Indianapolis was splitting a twin-bill at Jacksonville by the identical scores of 2-1.

In the Northern Division, idle Rochester gained one-half game on leader Syracuse. The Richmond at Rochester game was rained out, and Syracuse dropped a 12-3 decision to Toronto. Rochester stands 4½ games off the pace and Toronto five games.

In the league's other game, Columbus whipped Arkansas 6-1.

Yale has beaten Connecticut in all 14 football meetings.

Young Women Are Slain in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—Two attractive young women were found slashed to death in their Manhattan apartment Wednesday night. The bodies were bound hand and foot.

Three bloodstained kitchen knives were found in the $250-a-month apartment on East 88th Street, a fashionable neighborhood. Police said the knives belonged in the apartment.

The apartment had been ransacked. The bedroom where the bodies were found was "almost torn apart," a detective said, indicating the young women put up a fierce fight.

Killed were: Janice Wylie, 21, blonde editorial employee of Newsweek magazine, daughter of Max Wylie, writer, radio-television producer and director, and a niece of author Philip Wylie.

Emily Hoffert, 23, brunette daughter of Dr. Henry Hoffert, Minneapolis surgeon. She had left home less than a month ago to begin a teaching career next month at Valley Stream, N.Y., on Long Island.

They shared the four-room furnished apartment with brunette Patricia Tolles, 23, an editorial employee of Time magazine and daughter of Winton Tolles, dean of Hamilton College at Clinton, N.Y.

"They finished their drink and we went outside and Howard popped shots."

Said Howard:
"I got my range on the camera and waited until they started walking. I made two or three shots. I gave my pictures to Mc Niven and he rushed them in."

Alfegorelli said:
"The four of us walked around to the East 22nd Street station house and we walked in. We got before desk officer Lt. Frank Brill."

"The attorney said 'You're looking for this man.'"

"He (Brill) says 'What for.' She says homicide. He asked him 'What's your name.' He said Trantino. He (Brill) was amazed."

Howard said: "They put him (Trantino) in a cage (cell) with another guy."

Trantino was booked on a charge of homicide and held for authorities of Hackensack, N.J. He gave his occupation as a roofer and his address as Brooklyn.

Miss Gerling told newsmen Trantino was not involved in the shooting but admitted he was at the tavern when the policemen were killed. The attorney said she knew of Trantino through a mutual acquaintance, whom she did not identify.

The victims in the Lodi, N.J. murders were police Sgt. Peter Voto, 40, and Gary Tedesco, 22, a probationary patrolman. They were forced by gunmen into the men's room of the Angel Lounge forced to disrobe to their underwear, and then gunned down.
